ENGLAND WANTS OUR INFLUENCE.

To Induce Venezuela to Release Surveyor Harrison.

A SIGNIFICANT CONCESSION.

Considered as a Radical Departure from the Usual Methods Employed With American Republics—Cause of the Trouble.

Washington, June 24.—As soon as Secretary Olney returns to the State Department and he is confidently expected to-morrow, he will receive from Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, a request from the British government to use his good offices with Venezuela to secure the release from imprisonment of Crown Surveyor Harrison, who is represented to have been arrested by Venezuelan police while he was engaged in constructing a road connecting the Barima and Cuyuni rivers in the disputed territory.

This action of Great Britain is considered in diplomatic circles a radical departure from the usual ultimatum methods hitherto practiced upon American republics and much significance is attached to this fact, as probably indicating the considerable progress made toward an arbitration agreement and the practical acknowledgment that the United States is a party in interest in the Venezuelan dispute as well as in future controversies regarding territory on the American continent. While it is universally agreed that the new incident is exceedingly unfortunate just at this juncture, there is great diversity of opinion in fixing the blame. Even the British government has the most indefinite knowledge of the exact locality where the arrest took place; although it is claimed that the surveying party had no authority to go outside of the territory occupied exclusively by England for the past ten years.

The Venezuelans, however, find considerable satisfaction in the knowledge that Great Britain will appeal to Secretary Olney as indicating that it is not of so serious a nature as at first aprehended. They place the whole blame for whatever has occured on Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's aggressive colonial policy. They point to the fact that under date of Dec 19, 1894 they complained to Secretary Gresham of the proposed road upon which surveyor Harrison was employed and called attention to the fact that as the route lay in Venezuelan territory, a conflict would be unavoidable. The appeal was effective for the time being. The road was abandoned until August last year, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Sir Joseph Chamberlain, sent to British Guiana his demand for the colonies to raise funds for machine guns, an increased police force and the construction of the Barima road. This was resisted by the colonial legislature with the exception of defense armament until the arrival of the new governor from England a few months ago, when they were induced to appropriate for a survey of the road.

Venezuela now claims that the responsibility now rests wholly with Great Britain, after the warning went to the foreign office through colonial as well as through United States channels. It is contended at the legation here that the Venezuelan authorities who made the arrest must of necessity have been in their own territory, as they are not permitted to cross the frontier under any circumstances. The two English ports are on the right bank of the Cuyuni, and the left bank of the Amacura. Those of Venezuela are directly opposite them and this statu quo has ben rigidly observed by the Venezlelans. In their opinion Harrison must have been arrested within the Venezuelan line, and only after a warning to keep out. The Venezuelans to a man also are aware that they have everything to gain by peaceful methods and it is incredible to their friends here that they could have so disobeyed orders as to break the statu quo. It is said, however, that if Secretary Olney calls on Venezuela in response to Great Britain's request that a full report of the affair will undoubtedly be forthcoming as soon as the Caracas authorities can investigate.

MAY STOP THE REVOLT.

An American Scout Killed the Matabele God.

London, June 24.—The Daily Telegraph to-morrow will have dispatches from Pretoria and Kimberly saying that a rumor is being circulated in those places to the effect that the natives had captured Fort Salisbury, killed and mutilated 50 of the white inhabitants and smashed the Maxim guns in the place. The foregoing report, however, lacks confirmation, as do the rumors recently current that Fort Salisbury, which has been hard pressed by the natives, has been relieved. There has been much fighting in various places in the distressed district in the last few days.

Burnham, the American scout, found in a cave in the Matoppo hills the famous Matabele god Mlimo, the prompter and festerer of the outbreak, and vainly tried to capture Mlimo alive, but being unable to do so, killed him. It is believed that the death of their god will discourage the natives and lead to the suppression of the revolt.

SILVER CONTROLLED INDIANA.

Samll Gold Minority Made a Desperate Struggle.

Indianapolis, June 24.—As predicted, the silver men had control of the Democratic State convention to-day, and although the small gold minority made a desperate struggle—they were "turned down" mercilessly and a silver platform adopted. The delegates at large are:

D. W. Voorhees, David Turpie, C. V. Menzies, Jas. McCabe.

The State ticket follows:

Governor, B. F. Shively, South Bend; lieutenant governor, John Lawler, Salem; secretary of state, S. M. Ralston, Lebanon; auditor, Joseph T. Fanning, Indianapolis; treasurer, Morgan Chandler, Greenfield; attorney general, J. G. McNutt, Terre Haute. Appellate judges, superintendent of public instruction and State statistician wer also chosen.

The convention was one of the stormiest ever held in the State, the proceedings at times being almost riotous. The first row came when the report of the credentials committee was read, displacing the gold contestants of Marion county. The confusion was so great that a recess of 30 minutes had to be taken. After this, when the platform had been read, W. D. Bynum, on behalf of the gold men, tried to offer a minority report, Chairman Bell declared him out of order, but Bynum would not down. Finally, after an hour and a half of wild scenes, during which altercations were narrowly prevented in one or two instances, Bynum was given five minutes and made a motion to strike out the financial plank and insert in its stead the plank adopted at Chicago in 1892. Such a storm of hoots and howls greeted this that Mr. Bynum was compelled to leave the platform.

The convention then adopted the original resolutions and completed its business.

"We reaffirm our adherence to and faith in the Democratic doctrine of bimetallism and therefore we demand the immediate restoration of bimetallism by the free and unrestricted coinage of both silver and gold as primary money at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting the co-operation of Great Britain or other foreign powers, all such coinage to be full legal tender in the payment of all debts public and private.

"Resolved, That we believe the existing tariff laws will be fully equal to all demands for needed revenue for the expenses of the government economically administered, under the conditions which will arise from the restoration of bimetallism."

The remainder of the platform favors prompt adjustment punctual and regular payment of all pensions; believes in according all the rights of belligerents to the people of Cuba; favors the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people; opposes all subsidies or land grants to private corporations; indorses the administration of Gov. Matthews, commends him to the Democrats of the United States as a candidate for the Presidency; instructs the delegates from Indiana to the national convention to cast their votes in his favor for President and instructs the Indiana delegates to vote as a unit upon all questions involving platform or candidate in that convention.

The platform also opposes redemption and final cancellation of United States notes (greenbacks) or any other notes or certificates issued by the United States to circulate as money; demands a sufficient stable volume of money gold silver and paper, to meet the requirements of our growing population and the constant increase of our productive industries and protests against the increase of the public debt by the issue of interest-bearing bonds or otherwise in time of peace.

LYMAN TRUMBULL DEAD.

Secretary of State, Justice of Supreme Court and Senator.

Chicago, June 25.—Ex-Senator Lyman J. (Thursday) morning. He had been ill for several days.

Ex-Senator Lyman J. Trumbull was born in Colchester Conn. Oct. 2, 1813. He was the son of Benj. Trumbull who was a lawyer and legislator of renown in New England. He settled in Illinois when a young man. In 1840 he was elected to the State legislature when Abraham Lincoln was a member of that body. The following year he was appointed Secretary of State. In 1848 he was elected a justice of the supreme court and served two terms. In 1854 he was elected to Congress as an anti-Nebraska Democrat. In February, 1855, before the opening of the Congress to which he had been chosen, he was elected U. S. Senator, re-elected in 1861 and 1865, serving 18 years. His senatorial services were invaluable in shaping and sustaining the administration during the war of the rebellion. At the expiration of his term of service in the Senate he resumed the practice of his profession in Chicago.

Society Circus Accident.

Springfield, Ill., June 24.—General Alfred Orendorff, the well known Illinois politician, Postmaster Reddick Ridgely and nearly a score of other people prominent in society circles here were seriously injured to-night by an unfortunate accident which occurred at a "society circus," given on the lawn at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Jones.

The preparations for the affair were on an elaborate scale. Seats had been built in tiers resembling a regular circus. They were packed with people and a few minutes before the performance was to begin the seats nearest the street collapsed without warning, precipitating the occupants to the ground. Quite a serious panic ensued. Medical aid was quickly summoned and all the injured were removed to their homes, where they are being cared for. The most seriously hurt besides the ones named above are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brainerd, Mrs. E. W. Dana and Mrs. J. L. Hudson. The injuries range from slight cuts and bruises to broken limbs and injured spines. It is not thought any of the injured will die.

Threatened by Forest Fire.

Spokane, Wash., June 24.—As the Spokane and Northern train left Kaslo, B. C., for this city this morning a message came over the wire from Sandon, 20 miles up in the Slocan district, stating that the town was threatened with destruction from forest fires, which surrounded it. A few minutes later communication with Sandon was cut off and it is believed the fire has reached there. All day efforts have been made to reestablish communication and to obtain further information with the beleaguered town, but without avail. Sandon is a mining camp of about 200 inhabitants.

Struck by a Locomotive.

Denver, June 24.—An incoming South Park train struck James H. Rogers, a 15-year-old boy whose parents live at 1229 Fourth street, at the Fourth street crossing last night and injured him so badly about the head and back that he will probably die. Police Surgeon Johnson removed him to St. Luke's hospital. The boy ran onto the track after a ball, and the engine struck him before he could get out of the way.

State Silver Convention.

Denver, June 24.—Seven hundred delegates from every county in the State will hold a convention here to-morrow for the purpose of selecting 70 delegates to the convention of the National Silver party to be held in St. Louis July 22d. Teller will probably be endorsed as Presidential candidate on a single plank, though something may be added relative to protection. The silver Republicans of Colorado are enthusiastic in supporting this new party movement.

Conference of Credit Men.

Toledo, O., June 24.—The National Association of Credit Men practically completed its business to-day with the adoption of a constitution and by-laws and the election of officers. W. H. Preston of Sioux City, Ia., who has been temporary chairman of the association was elected president, and M. E. Bannon of New York vice president. For the next place of meeting Kansas City won.

Found Dead.

Breckenridge, Col., June 24.—This morning Henry Detweiler came to town and reported that his brother Jerry had been found dead in his cabin at the head of the Blue near Quandary. He left him on Saturday morning as well as usual, and last evening when he returned found him dead. He reported to the authorities, when Coroner Arbogast immediately started for the scene, and will bring the body to Breckenridge this evening.

An Outbreak in Van.

Constantinople, June 24.—Advices received here from Van, Asia Minor, say that in the outbreak which occurred there on Monday, 400 Armenians were killed and that the trouble was renewed yesterday. A large number of persons have taken refuge in the consulate.

Letter Carriers' Convention.

Toledo, O., June 24.—Every state in the Union is represented in the first annual convention of letter carriers, which Blackmer occupied the chair. Reports of officers showed the organization to be in a flattering condition.

Hammond Sailed.

Cape Town, June 24.—John Hays Hammond, one of the leaders of the Johannesburg Reform Committee, recently released from prison, sailed for England yesterday.

Postmaster at Teller.

Washington, June 24.—Among the postmasters appointed to-day was M. G. Cassidy at Teller, Colorado.

THEY OPPOSE MONOMETALLISM.

New York Democrats Are Therefore Opposed to Free Silver.

INTERNATIONAL BIMETALLISM.

That is What They Declare is the True Principle of Democracy and the Only Real solution of Existing Financial Trouble.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 24.—The Democratic State convention to-day adopted a platform declaring that the Democratic party is and always has been in favor of true bimetallism, but that the restoration of the equilibrium of the two metals, disturbed by Republican legislation is wholly beyond our power without the co operation of other nations. This they believe it possible to secure by wise and well directed efforts. Until it is secured the rigid maintenance of the gold standard is essential. Paper money should be retired rapidly as possible. The Democrats of the South are appealed to to avert Republican ascendancy and the probable result of a force bill, by uniting with the sound money men at Chicago. President Cleveland's administration is commended and a revenue tariff favored. These delegates at large to Chicago were chosen:

David B. Hill, alternate Robert Earl; Roswell P. Flower, alternate Smith M. Weed; Edward Murphy, alternate Jacob A. Canter; Fred K. R. Coudert, alternate William Purcell.

The convention was called to order by Chairman Hinckley of the State committee at 12:20 p. m. John Boyd Thatcher of Albany was selected for temporary chairman and made an address of some length in which he reviewed the existing situation and declared it to be the duty of the Democracy in such a crisis to speak clearly on the financial question.

"Neither consideration of expediency, nor the selfish interests of those who own silver bullion," he declared, "should lead us to depart from the safe and secure path."

Committees were then appointed and a recess taken. When the convention reassembled at 3:30 p. m., the credentials committee reported in favor of the sitting delegates from Kings, Queens and Richmond counties, and the contesting Shepardites marched out of the hall amid mingled cheers and hisses. The temporary organization was made permanent.

The Platform.

The platform as presented by Senator Hill from the committee on resolutions was as follows:

"It would be folly to ignore and impossible to exaggerate the gravity of the conditions under which the convention assembles. Most of the other States of the Union have selected and commissioned their delegates to the national Democratic convention. By a movement evidently concerted, but, as we believe, ill advised, and ill considered, instructions have been given to the delegates of a large number of States having for their aim and purpose the adoption of a new policy and a new platform for the Democratic party.

"No opportunity for a fair and deliberate consideration of such policy and platform has been afforded the Democracy of the State of New York. Upon such new matter thus proposed to be incorporated among the tenets of the party it becomes the duty of the Democrats of New York, representing their people to speak in no equivocal terms.

Gold and silver—the money of the constitution and of our fathers, each at a parity with the other in purchasing power, has been the platform of principles proclaimed by every national Democratic convention, which has thus adopted and reaffirmed in each declaration of party faith for a century, the wisdom of Thomas Jefferson, who said: 'The monetary unit must stand on both metals.'

"The action of a Republican Congress and a Republican President deprives silver of its equality with gold for the money and currency of the nation. From this act (for which the Democratic party was in no wise responsible) and from the action of other nations following in the same course, it has resulted that silver has greatly declined in commercial value and there now exists a wide departure of the two metals from the coining standard of value—bringing disturbance to the financial systems of European countries as well as to our own, and awakening there, as here, the earnest apprehension of statesmen and financiers. The restoration of equilibrium of the two metals thus disturbed is a problem the solution of which is of the greatest consequence to the prosperity of both this country and of Europe, but beyond the power of co-operation of other nations.

"Such co-operation by the united efforts of statesmen and wage earners here and elsewhere is believed to be near at hand and to be possible to secure by earnest and well directed effort. Free coinage of silver by the United States alone can have no other effect than to change our present standard to one of silver—now a depreciated coin and to retard, perhaps destroy forever the sucess of the movement now general throughout civilized countries for the restoration of free bimetallic coinage in the principal mints of the world. The proposition to separate ourselves from the great nations of the world and adopt the monetary standard of Mexico and China, does not comport with the pride and financial dignity of the State of New York or the United States. It should be resisted with the fervor of both partisanship and patriotism by Democrats everywhere when the adoption of such a course threatens as it does untold evils to our nation's commerce and industry.

For these reasons and with these convictions, the Democrats of New York, in convention assembled, make the following declaration of their principles and appeal to the Democrats of other States to join with them in incorporating those principles in the party platform, to be adopted at Chicago.

Oppose Monometallism.

"First—We are in favor of gold and silver as the standard money of the country. We are opposed as a permanent financial policy to gold monometallism on the one hand or to silver monometallism on the other hand. The pledges contained in the repeal of the Sherman law, which repealing act was passed by a Democratic Congress and approved by a Democratic President, should be faithfully carried out, wherein it was declared that the efforts of the government should be steadily directed to the establishment of such a safe system of bimetallism as will maintain at all times the equal power of every dollar coined or issued by the United States in the markets and in the payments of debts.

"We believe that such bimetallism, to which the nation is solemnly pledged, can only be safely secured and permanently maintained through the concurrent action of the leading nations of the world. Neither this country nor any other country nor any other country independent and alone, is able to maintain it and it would be folly to attempt it. Being so convinced, we are opposed to the unlimited coinage of silver in the absence of the co-operation of other great nations. We declare our belief that any attempt on the part of the United States alone to enter upon the experiment of free silver would retard or entirely prevent the establishment of international bimetallism. Until international co-operation for bimetallism can be secured—to which end all our efforts as a government and as a people should be in faith directed we favor the rigid maintenance of the present gold standard as essential to the preservation of our national credit, the redemption of our public pledge and the keeping inviolate of our country's honor. We insist that all our paper and silver currency shall be kept absolutely at a parity with gold."

The platform opposes legal tender paper money as a part of our permanent financial system, and refuses to sanction any par currency inconvertible with coin. United States notes and treasury notes being in fact debts of the government should be gradually paid off, retired and cancelled, in such manner as to cause no contraction of the circulating money of the country. Opposition is expressed to the repeal of any existing statute which enables the Secretary of the Treasury by the issue of bonds or otherwise to provide adequate funds for the redemption in gold of our paper obligation when never necessary. A tariff for revenue only is favored and opposition expressed to "government partnership with protected monopolies."

Cleveland Endorsed.

The platform further says:

"We indorse the administration of President Cleveland and particularly commend him for his determined efforts to maintain the financial credit of the United States. The delegates to the national Democratic convention, selected by this convention, are instructed to vote and act as a unit."

The platform was adopted unanimously. Ex-Gov. Flower then offered the following, which was also adopted:

"Whereas Party division at Chicago on the silver question will endanger Democratic success at the polls and,

"Whereas, Republican ascendency in the nation would undoubtedly be followed by another attempt to establish minority rule in the Democratic Southern States by means of a force bill. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Democrats of New York appeal to the Democrats of the South in the name of their present liberty and their properties to avert the possibility of a force bill by uniting with the Democrats of the east and the west in framing a platform on which all Democrats can stand, the united support of which will lead to a glorious Democratic victory."

Congressman Sulzer offered a resolution warmly sympathizing with the Cubans in their struggle, and John Greene of Kings moved to amend it by urging upon the national government the advisability of invervening with a view of bringing about a cessation of the struggle. The amendment was laid on the table and Sulzer's resolution adopted. After the election of the delegates at large named above and of district delegates, the convention adjourned sine die.

TO NOTIFY McKINLEY.

Committee will Go to Canton on Monday June 29th.

Omaha, Neb., June 24. Senator Thurston and family, accompanied by Senator Brosius and wife, leave to-morrow night for Cleveland, O. Mr. Thurston has issued the following letter of instructions to members of the committee appointed at the St. Louis convention to notify Gov. McKinley of his nomination as President:

"Omaha, Neb., June 24, 1896.—The committee selected by the Republican national convention to notify Hon William McKinley of his nomination for President, will meet at the Hollenden hotel, Cleveland, O., June 28, and proceed by special train on the morning of June 29 to Canton, O. The train will return to Cleveland the afternoon of the same day.

"JOHN A. THURSTON,
"Chairman."

OHIO DEMOCRATS

State Convention Adopted a Strong Silver Platform.

Columbus, O., June 24.—The Democrats of Ohio in convention assembled to-day adopted a strong silver platform.

Allen W. Thurman, E. R Finley, L. E Holden and John D. McLean were chosen delegates at large, and W. E. Decker, Carper V. Hoppley, P. H. Degner, John W. Conwell alternates. The State ticket nominated is as follows:

Supreme judge, E. K Blondin, Cleveland; Secretary of State, Chilton A. White, Brown county; Food Commissioner, Patrick McKeown Cincinnati; member of the Board of Public Works, William Beaumont, Licking county.

By a vote of 542 to 128, the convention adopted the following platform:

"We, the Democrats of Ohio, in convention assembled, hold that the money question is the vital and paramount issue now before the people of this country and that its early and correct settlement is necessary to the revival of business and the return of prosperity: therefore,

"Resolved, That we are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard, and demand an immediate return to the constitutional money of gold and silver by the restoration by this government, independent of other nations, of the unrestricted coinage of both silver and gold into standard money at the ratio of 16 to 1, and upon the terms of exact equality existing prior to 1873, such silver coin to be a full legal tender, equally with gold coin, for all debts and dues, public and private.

"Resolved, That the delegates at large this day chosen by this convention, and the delegates to the national convention from the several Congressional districts be, and hereby are, instructed to use all honorable means to secure the adoption of the principles contained in the foregoing resolution by the national Democratic convention to be held at Chicago July 7, and to vote only for candidates for President and Vice President, who are known to be in full accord therewith: and to accomplish these ends to cast the vote from the State of Ohio as a unit, as a majority may determine."

Preparing Teller's Reception.

Denver, June 24.—Senator Teller will arrive at 8 o'clock on the night of July 1, and a special train bearing the reception committee will go from here to meet him near the State line.

The sub-committee met at the Brown Palace hotel last evening. Some were left for discussion at another meeting to be held at 4:30 this afternoon. The guest will be escorted to the vacant block bounded by Sixteenth stret and Colfax, by Broadway and Lincoln avenues, where the procession will be reviewed, and where Senator Teller will address the crowd.

The committee on music is in session at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon and will finish its labors to-day if possible. As the parade will be large, city and outside bands will be requested.

It was anounced by the transportation committee that telegrams announcing the change of date to July 1 had been sent over the State, and Teller clubs are being organized in every town and camp.

The following notice, signed by John D. Howland, president and E. A. Willoughby, secretary, has been issued:

Members of the Society of Colorado Pioneers are requested to meet at room 309 Charles block, Thursday evening, June 25, at 7:30 o'clock, to arrange details for the reception to be given to our honored pioneer, Henry M. Teller, on his return to Colorado.

Instructed for Bland.

Austin, Tex., June 24.—The Chicago delegation were instructed to vote for Bland if in their judgment at Chicago he proves the most available free silver Democrat. He was declared to be the choice of the Democracy of Texas.

FOUGHT CORBETT FOUR ROUNDS.

Tom Sharkey Put Up a Game Fight Against the Champion.

REFEREE CALLED IT A DRAW.

Corbett Declared That It Was No Fight at all, But a Wrestling Match—It Took Place at San Francisco—Corbett Badly Worsted.

San Francisco, June 24.—To-night the great four round contest between Jim Corbett, champion pugilist of the world, and Tom Sharkey, the latest aspirant for the title, will be fought.

Sports from all over the coast will be in attendance, many having come from as far east of Salt Lake City. The trains which rolled in from the north to-day brought delegations from Washington and Oregon, while those from the south were filled with prominent citizens of San Diego, Los Angeles and the towns along the route of the Southern Pacific.

All the cities and villages of California will be represented as orders for reserved seats have been filled for residents of Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose, Oakland and lesser settlements scattered throughout the State.

That the battle will be fast and furious while it lasts is certain, as Corbett has given a quiet tip to his friends that he will set a rapid pace and keep it up from start to finish. He is determined to put the sailor out if possible, and feels confident of being able to do so.

That he will hit Sharkey about when and where he pleases is almost assured. The only question is: "Will the champion be able to administer sufficient punishment in four rounds of three minutes fighting to stop an opponent famous for stamina, recuperative powers and courage and one possessed of remarkable physical development as to make him proof against the assaults of all ordinary men?"

It is believed that on the quiet Corbett is backing himself to finish his opponent inside of four rounds. In undertaking the task, he is doing no more than John L. Sullivan did in his palmy days, when that prince of bruisers went about the country meeting all who had the hardihood to face him. The record of the Bostonian shows that it was few indeed who stayed over one, let alone four rounds.

Sharkey's friends set up the claim that their man is superior to anyone that Corbett has faced, with the possible exception of Peter Jackson. They argue that the sailor demonstrated in his mill with Choynski that he can whip Joe in a finish fight and they go further and draw the deduction that as it took Corbett 27 rounds to beat Choynski in the famous fight on the barge, on June 5, 1889, it will be impossible for him to make much of an impression on Sharkley in a short mill of four rounds.

There is no doubt of one thing and that is, that Sharkey is of the improving kind. His battles here prove as much. A peculiar feature of his fighting is that the higher class man he goes against the better he performs. That such is the case is shown by the poor battles he fought against Big Miller and Jim Williams, while with Aleck Greggains Billy Smith and Joe Choynski as opponents, he fought like a coming champion.

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon no referee had ben selected for the fight. The principals were to meet late this afternoon and settle on a man for the position. If the principals cannot agree the club will select the referee.

Betting this afternoon was 10 to 8 that Corbett would not stop Sharkley. There was no Corbett money in sight at these odds.

Corbett will be seconded by Billy Delaney, Jim Carr and George Green.

Sharkey's seconds will be Danny, Needham, Tim McGrath and Paddy Ryan of Vallejo.

There will be several preliminary contests prior to the big fight, which it is expected will commence about 9.30. Corbett is to receive 50 per cent. of the gross receipts and it is expected his share alone will be $12,000, whether he is beaten or not.

Sharkey, if he stays the four rounds, will receive 25 per cent. of the net receipts.

Details of the Fight.

Champion James J. Corbett and Thomas Sharkey, the ex-sailor, met in the ring at the Mechanic's pavilion to-night under the auspices of the National Athletic club. The articles of agreement called for a four-round contest, 50 per cent. of the gross receipts going to Corbett, win or lose, Shakey receiving 25 per cent. of the net receipts in the event of his getting the decision. It was Corbett's first public appearance in his home city since his memorable 6--round draw with Peter Jackson at the California Athletic club five years ago, and as was to be expected the pavilion was crowded, fully 10,000 people being present.

Both men had trained faithfully for the contest, and entered the ring at 179 pounds each. Corbett's seconds were Billy Delaney and George Green (young Corbett), while Danny Needham and Tim McGrath were behind Shakey. The preliminary bouts brought out Charles Rochette and Ed Howard, light weights, who fought four rounds, and "Australian" Billy Smith and Jack Davis, heavyweights, who contested for a $500 purse in 10 rounds.

Preliminary Bouts.

The first bout was a six round affair between Charley Rochette and Jack Howard of San Francisco, lightweights, was called at 9:20 and given to Rochette at the end of the fifth round by Referee Choynski, Rochette having been the aggressor from the start, hitting his man almost at will.

Australian Billy Smith and Jack Davis of Omaha, heavyweights, were the next to don the gloves. It was announced as an eight-round contest. Davis assumed the aggressive as soon as the men had advanced to the center and landed several times on his opponent's face, one of his blows drawing blood. The work was light during the rest of the round. Davis went at once to work when the gong sounded for the second round. He rushed Smith to the ropes. The Australian then woke up and returned blow for blow forcing the Omaha man across the ring, both going down through the ropes. When both had regained their feet, some vicious work followed. Smith sending Davis down on his back with a left-hand swing. Davis arose after three seconds and then fell over on his knees. With one great effort he finally stood up only to receive another blow that sent him across the ring against one of the padded posts just about knocked out, and Referee Choynski gave Smith the decision.

At 10.20 p. m., master of ceremonies Jordan announced that Corbett and Sharkey would be in the ring in 10 minutes time.

Sharkey made his appearance with his attendants at 10.38. He was liberally cheered by the big crowd.

Corbett followed at 10.43, just five minutes later, and was given a great ovation. Jim Carr, an old-time California pugilist, was introduced to the audience as the referee.

Both men were called to center by Referee Carr and given their instructions at 10.45.

First round—Corbett first to lead, left reaching Sharkey's wind. Sharkey leads wildly. Corbett has him guessing, lands on left cheek, several clinches follow. Corbett swung left landed on Sharkey's forehead. Sharkey leads with left misses. Several more clinches. Referee has difficulty in making them break away. Sharkey swings left and right, misses. Corbett reaches Sharkey under right eye and raises lump as gong sounds.

Second round—Sharkey aggressive. Swings wildly in a mix-up. He gets the worst of it by far. Sharkey clinches Corbett and holds on. Repeats operation twice after breakaway. Now a wrestling match. Sharkey to avoid champion's punches throws his arms around his neck repeatedly. Corbett lands on Sharkey's chest and face and hits at will. The sailor is very tired at conclusion of the round.

Third round—Sharkey came up with a jump and rushes the champion. Corbett was ready for him, and got a stiff punch on the chest. After a few feints Corbett reaches Sharkey with his right. Rapid exchange near the ropes. Corbett uppercuts with his right and follows with several smashes on chest and wind. Sailor fights back viciously, lands on champion's neck but not effectively. Just as gong sounded men were at it hammer and tongs.

Fourth round—Sharkey leads. Corbett ducks cleverly both men clinch. Sharkey strikes at Corbett viciously, General mix-up and clinch. Referee seems unable to part them. Sharkey fighting viciously. He throws Corbett heavily. There is little or no leading done and the men finish the round in a clinch. Referee decides contest a draw. Sharkey's right eye is closed, while Corbett is without a scratch. Sharkey had put up a game fight and after the call of time it required three policemen to keep him from Corbett.

The police entered the ring amid an uproar, Sharkey struggling in his corner and Corbett protesting to the referee.

Corbett was seen immediately after the encounter by the United Press representative, to whom he said: "Why, it was no fight at all. There was not even one round of fighting. That fellow made a wrestling match of it. He hung on for all he was worth. I could not get in on him. Call it a wrestling match, will you?"

Corbett Badly Worsted.

At the conclusion of the contest Corbett was greatly distressed, and it transpired that it was he who called upon the sergeant of police to interfere before the conclusion of the round. Sharkey was battling with his three handlers and three policemen in an effort to get at the champion. Corbett's admirers, who were plentiful around the ringside, were unanimous in an opinion that the champion was but a shadow of his former self and that he had showed no trace of science whatever. In short, he tried to beat Sharkey at slugging and was badly worsted. He landed only one clean blow in the entire contest and in the opinion of many who ought to know, he fouled Sharkey repeatedly. It was a Waterloo for Pompadour Jim, and he is the most crestfallen man in San Francisco to-night.

CORNELL WON.

Ithaca's Freshmen Victors in a Four Cornered Race.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24. Cornell's freshmen won the four-cornered freshmen race this afternoon, defeating Harvard by a length and a quarter, in 10 minutes and 18 seconds. Harvard was three-quarters of a length in front of Pennsylvania, while Columbia, which was never dangerous, was beaten over ten lengths.

Columbia and Harvard got slightly the best of what was only a fair start. Cornell getting off third, while University of Pennsylvania got away very badly. Pennsylvania made up leeway quickly, and to the half-mile mark it was a desperate race for the lead between Cornell and Harvard, with Pennsylvania rapidly closing the gap.

At the half mile the Harvard boat's nose was just in front of Cornell, Pennsylvania was hanging on the stern of the red and white, and Columbia was laboring in distress a length in the rear of the Quakers. Off Pennsylvania's quarters a cheer from the Ithacan delegation announced that Cornell had shot in front of the crimson. Faster and faster the Cornell shell shot through the water as Carter quickened the stroke. Nearing the bridge, Pennsylvania spurted. Going under the bridge the order was, Cornell clear of Harvard's canvas; University of Pennsylvania lapped on the crimson, and Columbia coming hopelessly four lengths astern.

Then a desperate race commenced. Inch by inch the Quakers gained on Harvard, until half a mile from home the two were level and going after Cornell. Opposite the Cornell boat house, the Cornells were a clear length in front of Pennsylvania and Harvard, who were rowing bow and bow in a desperate race. The Harvard coxswain shouted to his men for a final effort. Cornell swept to the finish line a length and a quarter ahead of Harvard, who were three-quarters of a length in front of the Quakers. Columbia came in completely played out, ten lengths behind. The time follows:

Cornell, 10 18; Harvard, 10 22, Pennsylvania, 10:25½, Columbia, 10.31.

DOUGLAS REGATTA.

Race for Large Raters Was Won by the Satanita.

London, June 24.—The Ailsa, Britannia and Satanita started in the Douglas, Isle of Man, regatta this morning, over a 15-mile triangular course, three times around. The Saint, the Penitent and Niagara started in a race for the Howard Gould cup. The race for 20 raters was won by the Saint, which finished eight minutes ahead of the Penitent, the Niagara last.

The Niagara entered a protest against the Saint and the Penitent upon the ground that they sailed a shorter course than the Niagara did. The protest is likely to be sustained.

The race for large raters was won by the Satanita, Ailsa second, Britannia last.

The protest lodged against The Saint and the Penitent by the Niagara was sustained by the committee. The Britannia won the second prize in the race for large raters on time allowance.

Will Sail for Europe.

New York, June 24.—The following are among the passengers who will sail for Europe to-morrow on the steamer Fuerst Bismarck: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cebrian, baby and nurse; Miss Josie Cebrian, Master Louis Cabrain, Master Edward Cabrain, Miss Mamie Cebrain, Master Rafael Cebrain, Dr. J. Callandrean, Dr. and Mrs. Krotosseiner, Miss M. C. Delovaga, Mr. Maximo Martinez of San Francisco, Mrs. Celia L. Klee Hayward, California, and J. M. Radebaugh of Pasadena.

Anxious for Relief.

Cape Town, June 24.—Reports have been received here that various stations in tacked by the rebellious natives and the white inhabitants killed. The whole country around Fort Salisbury, according to the advices received, is in revolt, and relief is anxiously awaited by the beleagued white residents.

International Pigeon Shoot.

London, June 24.—In the International Pigeon shoot at Fulham to-day the American marksman Morris won the second prize in the Hurlingham Cup contest. In another contest the American, George Work, secured the first prize a gun and 25 pounds, with a run of twenty kills.

TWO FEET OF SYLVANITE ORE.

Encountered in the Ida May at a Depth of Ninety Feet.

STRIKE IN THE CHAPIN LEASE.

On the East End of the Ironclad Claim on Ironclad Hill—New Hoisting Plant for the Pharmacist Has Arrived.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, June 24.—The latest strike to be made is in the Ida May, located on Raven hill. The property is being developed by a vertical shaft which has been sunk to a depth of 90 feet, at which depth a strong two-foot vein of sylvanite ore has been ecountered. Already from six to eight tons of ore have been saved and a shipment will be made in a short time. Fuller particulars are not obtainable to-day, but it is understood that the ore carries good values and the indications are that another important property has been opened up.

The new 50 power hoisting plant for the Pharmacist arrived in camp yesterday and will be placed over the old shaft immediately. The plant is designed to work to a depth of 1000 feet. The old plant now in use will be placed over the new shaft the company is sinking on its parallel vein.

The Mobile company has granted a lease on a block of the Last Chance lode, 50 by 500 feet to Ira H. Stiteler, who will begin work trenching the surface immediately in the hope of locating a vein. Some rich float has recently been found on this property and the lessee is confident that he can open up the lead that it came from.

A good strike has been made in the Chapin lease on the east end of the Ironclad claim on Ironclad hill. The ground has been developed by a tunnel from which a cross-cut was run which opened up a good vein. A drift was run a short distance on this vein and then a winze sunk when a good body of ore was found. The ore shows sylvanite but its value and dimensions have not yet been determined.

Work has been resumed on the Bertha B by Messrs Russell and Blackmer, who recently secured this property from the Coin Mining company. The part to be developed adjoins the Rattler. A good steam plant is on the ground and good results are expected.

A wagon loaded with supplies drawn by four horses and accompanied by seven men was started out to-day by James H. Graham for the new diggings some 30 miles from this camp, and located between the La Plata and Kiowa rivers. Parties from Cripple Creek who have recently visited the new camp report very favorably on its prospects. The camp is being prospected over an area of ten square miles and has a great number of shafts ranging in depth from 20 to 60 feet. Some very fine specimens of ore have been received and it is reported that the Church and Evans properties are in pay ore. Mr. J. M. Parker of the First National bank of this city, Frank P. Stanley, general solicitor, and Morgan Jones, president of the Denver and Fort Work railway, are quoted as among the prominent men who have taken hold of the new district.

INCIPIENT BLAZE.

Prompt Work by Firemen and Neighbors Prevents a Serious Fire.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, June 24. Quite a little excitement was caused about 9:30 to-night by an alarm of fire in this city. The usual manner of announcing fires by pistol shots soon brought a good-sized crowd out which started for the scene of the blaze in West Cripple Creek. The fire originated in the kitchen of what is known as the "One Horse" restaurant, 214 West Bennett avenue, and but for the prompt and energetic assistance of neighbors and the fire department, a serious conflagration might have ensued. This part of the city is well built up and had the fire got a good start there is no telling where it would have left off. The damage done to the restaurant is only nominal, and is covered by insurance.

Highlands Annexation.

Denver, June 24.—By the annexation of Highlands yesterday, some extensive changes in the municipal machinery of Denver will be necessitated. Unless the matter is prolonged in the court, the city of Highlands will pass out of existence within a month, and all its territory will become a part of the city of Denver.

One, and possibly two wards, will have to be added to the city of Denver, special elections called, and aldermen chosen. By the terms of the charter, there can only be 17 wards in Denver. As there are now 14 wards, the city is running rather short, on wards. Some advocate two wards in Highlands, to one of which Colfax could be added when it comes into Denver, and to the other the town of North Denver, or a part of it might, if the law permits, be joined. These matters have, however, received little attention as yet.

Wheat Crop.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 24.—Fifty wheat counties in this State and the Dakotas report reduction in the spring wheat acreage from a year ago, and all but three counties report the wheat in good condition. The total acreage is estimated at 9,000,000 which is 900,000 more than the government estimate. There is a decrease in the Red River valley which is made up by increases elsewhere. The reports show from 7,000,000 to 8,000,000 bushels of last year's crop still in the farmers' hands.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boston-Brooklyn.

Boston, June 24.—Two runs behind in the ninth, Boston won out in great style. Tenny's fielding and batting were the features of the game. Attendance, 1,500. Score: Boston, 8; Brooklyn, 7.

Cleveland-Pittsburg.

Cleveland, June 24.—To-day's game was a hard struggle from start to finish and was replete with brilliant plays. Stenzel made a wonderful one-hand running catch which cut off two runs for Cleveland: Score: Cleveland, 10; Pittsburg, 5.

Louisville-St. Louis.

Louisville, June 24.—A single by Cooley and Parrott's home run won the game for the visitors in the ninth inning to-day. Cooley's batting was the only feature. Attendance, 500. Score: Louisville, 3; St. Louis, 4.

Chicago-Cincinnati.

Chicago, June 24.—Failure to hit Foreman at the right time lost to-day's game for the Colts. Terry pitched a good game and was given fine support. Attendance, 2,000. Score: Chicago, 2; Cincinnati, 4.

Philadelphia-Baltimore.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Philadelphia-Baltimore no game; wet grounds.

New York-Washington.

New York, June 24.—New York-Washington no game; rain.

THE LEADVILLE MINERS' STRIKE.

Condition of Affairs in the Famous Camp is Serious.

A LONG STRUGGLE IS EXPECTED.

That Far There Has Been Practically No Disorder — Danger of Great Loss from Flooding If the Pumps Are Stopped.

Denver, June 21.—A special to the Times from Leadville says:

The fifth day of the Leadville strike has gone and the situation still looks very gloomy. It is useless to deny the fact that the condition of affairs in the Leadville district is very serious. The mine managers and the miners are just as far apart, if not further, than they were when the strike was inaugurated.

At a late hour yesterday afternoon four more of the leading mines of the camp, all of which have been paying $3 a day, closed down. This action was taken by the mine managers of their own accord. It goes to show that at the meeting of the mine managers in this city a determined course was decided upon and what this course is can be surmised from the fact that the $3 properties are closing down of their own accord.

It is safe to say that since this strike was inaugurated on Friday night about 1700 men have walked out, and there is a likelihood of several hundred more going out. While it was a walk-out on the part of the 2.50 men, all of the $3 men with the exception of those in the Ibex were let out by the managers and it is looked upon as a lockout. The mines that closed at the 2 o'clock hour yesterday afternoon let out the following number of men: Resurrection, 60; Elkhorn, 65; Mahala, 70; Big Four, 20.

It was reported this morning that the Lillian property, which is being worked by lessees, had also closed down, but this report was found to be untrue. The Lillian lessees, the Mikado lessees, and a large number of other leases, all of which are paying $3 a day, are still working. With the exception of one or two properties which are in charge of mine managers, all of the big mines of the camp have closed down.

There is much speculation and comment on the move of the $3 mine managers in closing down their properties. The officials of the Miners' union understand this action as a refusal to consider their demands, and possibly a silent declaration that these demands will not be acceded to.

They do not believe that the managers are ready to go to the length of flooding their properties, but they do not deny that the indications point to a struggle of endurance, for which they say they are fully prepared. It is very plain to the dullest observer that there is a very important and momentous struggle on.

While the miners have formulated one demand, that of $3 per day, there is a feeling among mine operators that its significance is still wider, involving several other features. To those who have looked into matters carefully it is very evident that there is the greatest difficulty in securing a common ground or basis for settlement, so that the outcome of the controversy is involved in the greatest doubt and obscurity.

Most remarkable, and fortunately for all concerned, the strike situation has developed no menacing features. Never before in the history of the country has there been 1700 men on a strike where not a rough word was spoken nor a disorderly act committed. Every one of the men who are out have so far taken it upon themselves to observe law and order.

The Crown Point on Rock-hill holds the key to the water situation in that section of the camp, just the same as the Great Maid and Henrietta combination hold the key to the situation in the city district. A large pumping plant was placed at the Crown Point last fall and the mine was drained, and it is this plant that is at present keeping dry the surrounding properties of that section. A number of the properties that have already quit work find that the water is coming in on them. This goes to show that an awful disaster would occur should the big pumps of the plant be withdrawn and the properties allowed to be flooded. At present everything is quiet, and all the engineers and pumpmen are at their places.

A Long Struggle.

Leadville, Colo., June 24.—The closing down of the mines and the silence of the operators is now accepted by the miners union as a determined policy to ignore the strike by a concerted action to lock out the miners. The union are holding secret meetings and admit that the contest will be a long struggle.

Bering Sea Commission.

Seattle, Wash., June 24.—The United States fish commission steamer Albatross with the Bering Sea commission, created to make an exhaustive study of the life and condition of the fur seal in Bering Sea, sailed for the north this morning. The Washington, D. C., members of the board, Drs. Stejneger and Lucas, of the Smithsonian Institute, arrived in Seattle last evening, joining the other American members of the board as well as the British representatives.

The Fourth Victim.

San Francisco, June 24.—Dennis Griffin, a bed carrier, 29 years of age, who was working on the Brighton lodging house when it collapsed Monday, died from his injuries today, making the fourth victim of the disaster.

Militia Withdrawn.

Astoria, Oreg., June 24.—The last detachment of militia was today withdrawn from the scene of the late riotous disturbances. All the fishermen are now at work.

Cricket Match.

London, June 24.—The cricket match was begun on Monday between the England picked team and the Australians was ended to-day, the English team winning by six wickets.

TRUTH ABOUT TURKEY.

Minister Terrell on the Armenians and Their Persecutors.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, June 22. I went to the state department the other day to examine some late and interesting reports from Turkey and was led to look into various old documents which gave me a genuine surprise. That we are a truly great people all Americans know, but it is not so generally known, I fancy, that our diplomats have taught the old world fellows many new and successful tricks, and an important part of what is supposed to be distinctively European policy was really projected by Americans. Even the regular readers of the daily papers are just beginning to discover that our man in Constantinople is the envy of all the other diplomats there because of the remarkable success he has had with the grand vizier.

All the Texans here were full of enthusiasm about Minister Terrell when he left us, and so far as I can see the record fully justifies them. The minister himself declined to talk for publication, but in the social circle and especially with the Texas men he conversed with great freedom, and while avoiding, of course, any official disclosure, said a great deal of interest, from which I am permitted to quote a few sentences: "I confess to a feeling of pride and think all Americans may well be proud of the fact that in all the recent troubles not one of our country men has been personally injured. Some property has been destroyed, but the grand vizier has always been as ready to make reparation as I have been to ask it. In fact, I may say that in some instances he has even anticipated my request for complete details, and in a general way it should be added that he and his assistants are wonderfully shrewd diplomats and understand the position of the United States quite as well as we do ourselves. They know that we can have no possible interest in meddling with Turkish affairs, and that all we do is for the good of humanity. This may be the main cause that, while men of nearly all other nations have suffered, Americans have been as safe in Turkey as at home.

"A few elementary facts about Turkey, and in fact all Asia, are overlooked by most western people. The most important, perhaps, is that the term 'Christian' in all that country is an ethnic one. It means a race or a nation rather than any particular form of faith. Thus the peaceful, industrious Armenians at home, the tricky as well as the honest traders in the cities, the offscourings of European merchant vessels and the half savage robbers and murderers of the Greek highlands are all Christians. In some of the ports the scum of other countries around the Mediterranean and the worst part of the sailor class, together with a considerable portion of outcasts both male and female, are gathered in what is called the Christian quarter, and it is perfectly natural that to the better class of Mohammedans the name should suggest the vilest of mankind. In short, Christian simply means those who are not Jews or Mohammedans, and consequently includes some very bad people. If all the convicts of this country were sent to Asia, they would be called Christians. It depends, therefore, a good deal on the province in which the Mohammedans live as to what their idea of a Christian is. The missionaries are generally regarded as good and earnest men and women, and the ministers of Christian nations and the better class of their citizens who travel in Turkey are very highly regarded. My honored predecessors have also done much to give the Turks a good opinion of us. General Lew Wallace was very highly regarded, and James Russell Lowell, who merely visited Turkey while he was embassador to Spain, made a fine impression. I believe he also formed a pretty high opinion of the Turks."

It is only justice to add that the recent report of formal complaints against Minister Terrell by the missionaries was a mere newspaper "fake." Mrs. Helena Lewis of Brooklyn, who is an authoress and translator of foreign works, has put on file a very warm eulogy of Mr. Terrell, stating her personal experience while in Turkey, and in general it may be said that the state department files are quite complimentary to him. He will, however, on arrival at his post find an entirely new trouble in the island of Crete, but his friends here are sublimely confident that he will deal with it successfully.

J. H. BEADLE.

AN ARCH CRIMINAL.

Great Sensation Caused by the Arrest of a Belgian Chief of Police.

[Special Correspondence.]

LONDON, June 15. Not since 1877, when Chief Inspector Druscovitch and Inspectors Melklejohn, Palmier and Clarke, the heads of the detective department of the British police at Scotland Yard in this city, were arrested, tried convicted and sentenced to long terms of penal servitude for using their official position in order to organize and promote robbery and fraud on a gigantic scale, has any case occurred which has created so great a sensation as the arrest of Courtois, the chief of the Belgian police at Brussels, on the charge of being the ringleader of a gang of criminals who appear to be responsible for every robbery and murder of any importance that has taken place in the dominions of King Leopold during the last ten years.

Chief of Police Courtois is a man of herculean stature and strength, bearing a striking resemblance to ex-Inspector Williams of New York city and enjoying a reputation similar to the latter for the use of fist and club in dealing with disturbers of the peace. Indeed there are no end of stories current at Brussels concerning the vigor with which he acted whenever called upon to suppress any popular outbreak. It was these very tales concerning the feats of strength which he displayed in dealing with criminals, and especially with the leaders of mobs, that served for so long to divert suspicion from himself, and he might have escaped discovery altogether had he not been guilty of a gross piece of injustice and brutality toward a subordinate who swore to get even with him. Several little things had occurred to raise doubts in the mind of this officer as to the integrity of his chief when the shocking murder of the Baroness Herry, a wealthy octogenarian who resided in one of the suburbs of the Belgian capital, occurred a few weeks ago and spread terror and consternation on every side. The baroness was so prominent a personage in society, so conspicuous a figure of the Belgian aristocracy, that her tragic death and the burglary of her residence monopolized for a time public attention and interest, all the more as it appeared impossible to obtain any clew to the identity of the perpetrators of the crime. At length, after the lapse of about a fortnight, half a dozen railroad bonds that had belonged to the murdered baroness were found in the possession of a broker at Brussels, who, in response to inquiries, declared that he had purchased them from a tall, good looking man who had given the name of Reval.

The police searched in every direction for men answering the description given by the broker and had given up the job in despair when suddenly the officer above mentioned got it into his head that the description answered that of Courtois. Accordingly he secured a photograph of the latter and showed it to the broker. It was a portrait in which the chief appeared surrounded by a group of inspectors, and the very moment that the broker set eyes upon it he unhesitatingly declared that the vender of the stolen bonds and Chief of Police Courtois were one and the same person. Notwithstanding the fact that this declaration on the part of the broker was put into the form of an affidavit, the authorities at first manifested the utmost reluctance to subject the chief to the indignity of an arrest, and it was only when further investigation brought evidence that the murder of old Baroness Herry was not the only crime in which he had been implicated that they proceeded to do their duty and place him under lock and key.

As soon as his capture had been effected and a seizure been made of his papers and correspondence, which showed him to have long been a ringleader in crime, denunciations commenced to pour in upon the ministry of the interior, and the people, who had until then been terrorized into silence, commenced to relate what they knew about him. Seeing that there was no possibility of any escape for him, Courtois, like so many of his kind, commenced to reveal the names of his principal confederates and associates with such satisfactory results that before ten days had elapsed no less than 14 of the band were in the hands of the authorities. By playing them off one against another the magistrates intrusted with the task of investigating the case brought to light the fact that it was Courtois and his gang who had murdered the rich English woman and her two children whose bodies were found floating in a canal on the morning following the arrival in Brussels six months ago and had likewise perpetrated the two successive robberies of plate and jewels from the palace of the Count of Flanders, who is the brother of King Leopold. It seems that Courtois, who, as the husband of one of the attendants of the Countess of Flanders, knew all about the arrangements and organizations of this royal establishment, especially as regards the strong boxes where the jewels and the plate were kept, actually kept watch while the robberies were in progress so as to prevent the burglars from being disturbed while engaged in their nefarious task.

Yet in spite of these and a number of other crimes that are now laid at the door of Courtois there are but few people who believe that he will ever be brought to justice, although there is no doubt but what his confederates will be condemned to heavy sentences of penal servitude, capital punishment being to all intents and purposes abolished in Belgium.

This immunity, which the people regard as certain to be conceded to him, is attributable not so much to his wealth, which, thanks to his robberies, is very great, nor yet to the obligations under which he has placed prominent political and official personages indiscreet enough to place themselves within his power by becoming involved in scrapes, but is due mainly to the part which he played in hushing up the terrible scandal in connection with the violent death of Prince Baldwin, heir presumptive to the throne. The latter perished a few years ago much in the same mysterious and terrible manner as his cousin, Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, a lady being, of course, involved in the case. For reasons which are obvious the royal family of Belgium has always been quite as anxious to maintain unraised the veil of secrecy which conceals this ghastly skeleton of a royal closet. Now Courtois knows everything about the mystery of the Avenue Louise. It is, therefore, extremely improbable that he will ever be brought to trial. This arch criminal, this perpetrator of many murders and countless burglaries, will either be quietly assisted into eternity unsentenced or else will be tamured for the remainder of his days in a lunatic asylum.

SANTA FE.

LAS VEGAS HOT SPRINGS, NEW MEXICO.

Is in the heart of a region famous for scenic beauty, within an easy drive of the New Mexico National Park. Close at hand are adobe villages of the native Mexicans, the picturesque wooded canons of the Gallinas River and Hermit Lake and Canon, above which rises the broad level top of Old Baldy, where the Penitentes perform their singular flagellations, a commanding point whose grandeur of outlook is hardly to be excelled in the Rockies. In such a spot stands the famous MONTEZUMA HOTEL, Also the MOUNTAIN HOUSE.

A well built, solid, stone structure with accommodations for 300 guests has running water, inside toilet rooms, steam heat, electric light and call-bells; is conducted at $2 per day, $12 to $14 per week.

New Mexican climate is particularly beneficial to those who are afflicted with hay fever, asthma or any form of lung or throat disease.

Round trip tickets $15.75; good three months. Circulars full of information at city office Santa Fe Route.

ROMANCE AND SENTIMENT

Don't go far in the railroad business.

The popularity and rapidly growing business of one of our lines is attributable to sterling business methods, and careful consideration of public needs in matters of schedules, rates and other accommodations.

We mean the Gulf Road, of course, and have particularly in mind the last new train the management placed in service, called the Tourist's Special. It leaves here at 6.50 p. m. and goes through to Denver with only one station stop. This train is doing a phenomenally large business already. Carnes will give you particulars. 14 Pike's Peak ave.

FANS MAKE SOME BREEZE.

So do the new fast trains on the Gulf road between Colorado Springs and Denver. Morning express leaves Colorado Springs 9:10; that's a convenient hour after breakfast, and you reach Denver before noon.

Early afternoon mail leaves at 1.50 p. m.; puts you in Denver at 4:50.

The Tourist's Special (vestibuled) leaves at 6.50 p. m., arriving at Denver for all evening trains to eastern points.

See Mr. Carnes at No. 14 Pike's Peak avenue for more details. Depot on West Huerfano street, near viaduct. The Gulf Road.

NOTHING SUITS A MAN

So well as himself. Next to that the new limited train service on the Gulf Road between Colorado Springs and Denver.

One of the best of the new trains leaves Colorado Springs at 6.50 p. m., reaching Denver for all of the evening connections for the east. Train is vestibuled, makes very fast time with perfect ease, and is entitled to its suddenly acquired popularity.

See our Mr. Carnes regarding our other fine and fast service.

P. S.—This new train stops for passengers at Tejon street.

CHEAP RATES VIA DENVER AND GULF ROAD

Stockholders' Meetings of the Maggie Reeves and Wheel of Fortune Gold Mining Companies.

A stockholders' meeting of the Wheel of Fortune Gold Mining company will be held Tuesday, July 28, 1896, and the Maggie Reeves Gold Mining company Wednesday, July 29, 1896, at 10 a. m., at 18 Pike's Peak avenue, Colorado Springs, Colo., to vote on the proposition of consolidating the Wheel of Fortune Gold Mining company and the Maggie Reeves Gold Mining company, and reducing the capitalization of the consolidated company. These meetings were rendered necessary by the failure to get the "three-fourths" of the stock represented (as required by law). I, therefore urge again that you will either be present at the meeting or return proxy as promptly as possible, and oblige. Yours truly, FRED F. HORN, Sec.

Books closed the 25th of July.

Notice of Annual Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union Gold Mining company will be held at the office of the said company, in Colorado Springs, Colorado, on Monday, July 6, 1896, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the election of a board of directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Books for the transfer of stock will be closed at noon on the first day of July, and re-opened two days after the final adjournment of the meeting.

E. S. JOHNSON, President.

C. H. MORSE, Secretary.

Dated Colorado Springs, Colorado, June 6, 1896.

Notice of Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Nipple Mountain Gold Mining company will be held at the office of the company, 18 Pike's Peak avenue, Tuesday, 10.30 a. m., July 21, 1896, for the election of seven (7) directors, and the transaction of any business that may properly come before the meeting.

THE OUTLOOK AT CHICAGO.

The political news of the week has brought no startling surprises, and the Democratic conventions which have been held have voted for silver or for gold in accordance with the expectations of those familiar with the situation. Yesterday's conventions in New York and Indiana complete the list of States with the exception of the two Southern States, Georgia and North Carolina, whose conventions will meet to-day. Both of these are scheduled in the silver column and there is no good reason for believing that they will vote in any other way. The situation at Chicago may be tabulated then as follows:

	Silver.	Gold
Alabama	22	...
Arkansas	16	...
California	16	...
Colorado	8	...
Connecticut	...	12
Delaware	1	5
Florida	4	4
Georgia	22	...
Idaho	6	...
Illinois	48	...
Indiana	30	...
Iowa	26	...
Kansas	20	...
Kentucky	22	...
Louisiana	12	...
Maine	...	13
Maryland	...	16
Massachusetts	...	29
Michigan	...	28
Minnesota	...	18
Mississippi	15	...
Missouri	34	...
Montana	6	...
Nebraska	16	...
Nevada	6	...
New Hampshire	...	8
New Jersey	...	20
New York	...	72
North Carolina	22	...
North Dakota	5	...
Ohio	35	10
Oregon	8	...
Pennsylvania	...	64
Rhode Island	...	5
South Carolina	15	...
South Dakota	...	8
Tennessee	24	...
Texas	30	...
Vermont	...	8
Virginia	24	...
Washington	3	5
West Virginia	12	...
Wisconsin	...	24
Wyoming	6	...
Utah	6	...
Arizona	6	...
New Mexico	6	...
Oklahoma	6	...
Indian Territory	6	...
District of Columbia	4	2
Alaska	6	...

These figures show a total for the silver forces of 576 votes, and for the gold men 352 votes. The silver men also claim 7 votes in Minnesota and 4 in Maryland in addition to those shown above.

In the face of such figures the declarations of the gold Democrats that they have not yet given up the fight appear to be on a level of those which predicted the defeat of McKinley after the Republican delegates had been selected. It is difficult to see how the silver men can be prevented from claiming the full fruits of their victory, and in their present temper they will be disposed to push their advantage to the extreme limit. But while the silver men are united and enthusiastic in their devotion to silver they are not at all agreed as to their candidate. The simple and primitive plan of waiting until Chicago was reached and then accepting the man with the most votes has been discarded and one candidate at least, Governor Boies of Iowa, has a political boom with all the modern improvements in full operation. Other Democrats are quite as decided to the interests of ex-Congressman Bland of Missouri, or some other favorite son, while others wish to go outside the party altogether and give the nomination to Senator Teller

It is not unlikely that Mr. Whitney and the other gold Democrats are counting upon taking advantage of this situation to secure concessions. If the convention is divided not as between the opposing financial heads but as between Bland and Boies, for example, the gold men will hold the balance of power. Their strength would be considerably augmented if the two-thirds rule, which has been the custom in former Democratic conventions, should be kept in force. The silver majority is a big one, but it is not sufficient to give two-thirds of the votes in the convention to an out-and-out silver man There will be, no doubt, a strong pressure put upon the silver men to grant concessions in platform and candidate in order to secure Eastern votes.

The silver men have undoubtedly secured a big majority in the convention, but they are not united on a candidate, and the result is by no means certain.

THE USEFUL KIND OF COLLEGE.

Some usefulness, no doubt, belongs to every kind of educational institution. A college never heard of outside its own country, and not caring to be more widely known, pursuing the ancient and inexpensive system of book-learning only, and not seeking for laboratory methods of instruction, a college where the same man conducts classes in botany, Latin, and trigonometry, because the force is not large enough for specialization,—in such a college a youth may learn what will profit him, but he might learn more and better elsewhere. Such a college would be better for the community than no college at all, yet the public advantage from it might often be hard to see.

The college whose usefulness to its students and to the public it would be stupid indeed to question is the enterprising, vigorous, growing college, with an energetic faculty, containing some men who are widely known as authorities, each in his own department with laboratories in which independent investigations are in progress, where students flock in increasing numbers because they know that the training offered is in every way abreast of the times.

Such a college Colorado Springs already possesses, as may be abundantly proved by a study of the recently-issued Annual Bulletin of Colorado College. It would not be easy to find in a hundred pages more enterprise, ambition, and creditable achievement on slender means. If there is in Colorado Springs a business concern whose management is economically conducted, is already profitable to the general good of the city and promises far more, then the concern under the management of President Wm F. Slocum is of that kind

But such a college we do not always possess. The plans on which the college is administered are not extravagant, not wasteful, but they are generous and such as demand a generous and public-spirited constituency Help from outside has not been lacking. A Massachusetts man has given us $5000 in the Coburn library, a Chicago man stands ready with another $50,000 if we show that we want it by adding our own contribution. In all probability, the response of Colorado Springs within the next ten days will decide what kind of college we are to have.

There is no reason why Colorado Springs, beside being the foremost of the nation's health resorts, and beside any other distinction which it may achieve, should not grow to be the Cambridge, the Gottingen of the American plateau. It is perfectly possible. On the other hand, we have only to do nothing, just now, and we shall lose forever a golden opportunity.

The Leadville strike increases in seriousness The mine owners have got together and have shut down the mines which were paying the $3 a day demanded by the strikers, thus adding considerably to the number of the unemployed One of the most serious features of the strike is that the Leadville mines are dependent on pumps to keep them free of water Should the pumps stop, as is threatened, and the mines be allowed to fill, operations could not be resumed without much delay and expense Entirely independent of the merits of the case as between miner and owner, Colorado people will wish for a speedy settlement of the trouble and the resumption of operations.

There is not much newspaper excitement about CrippleCreek these days, but the mines keep turning out the right sort of stuff and additions are frequently made to the shipping list. Two good results at least are apparent from the temporary lapsing of the boom. One is the disappearance of the fakirs in mines and the other the disappearance of the fakirs in write-ups and advertisements. At one time last winter it seemed as though there were more Eastern correspondents working the towns than there were miners working the mines

We hear a great deal of the 'moral courage' of Senator Teller in doing what will make him popular at home and assure his re-election. How about the moral courage of Wolcott in following a course which he believes to be right in spite of obloquy and harsh criticism? We believe Teller to be honorable and sincere, but when it comes to moral courage which is easier for a Colorado man who wishes to do what is right as he sees it, to stay in the Republican party in spite of its position on silver or to leave the party because of it?

The Denver Republican and the Denver News pulled together for nearly two days, but the harmony is broken again. The News is bound to have Teller nominated the The Republican won't have it that way. It is greatly to be hoped that this Populist and this Republican (?) newspaper will compose their difference before the Chicago convention Otherwise the Democrats might be sorely puzzled in trying to meet their wishes.

Collector Ryan has a remarkable story to tell of his trip to Cuba, and it is difficult to tell whether he is giving the reporters, or whether he was tremendously sold in Havana, or whether he does not know what he is talking about His interview with Macco in a Havana cafe and his inspection of the trocha at a distance of eight miles are parts of the story which entirely destroy the value of the rest for practical purposes.

Reports come of a big fire among the forests of the headwaters of the Frying Pan river in the western part of the State. Such waste of timber and destruction of natural water reservoirs is criminal Colorado is already having a harsh experience of the insufficiency of the natural water supply, and if the wanton destruction of the forests continues her troubles in this respect may be considerably increased.

Mr Wharton Barker has replied to Secretary Whitney, and at the same time we are informed by Judge Whitcomb of Colorado that is of Denver that Mr Wharton Barker is a candidate for the Democratic nomination It is probable however, that Mr. Barker will have to rely on something besides his reply to Whitney or his reputation as an all around crank to secure that nomination

Senator-elect Foraker is taking pains to assert that the St. Louis platform is identical with the Minneapolis platform in its financial plank. In a certain sense this is true The St Louis plank is the soldite interpretation of the one from Minneapolis.

Senator Teller's declaration that he is not a candidate for the Presidency will not amount to much in the face of the declarations of the Denver News and his other new and disinterested friends that he is.

Later returns than those which were available at the time of writing this column yesterday show a decided victory for the Liberals in Canada.

Manitou has a new spring called the Ouray, but Manitou doesn't need it. It would have been more appreciated five miles further east.

Next Sunday's Gazette will contain an illustrated article on the coming Democratic convention at Chicago.

Favors International Bimetallism.

No one seems to have observed that the finance plank adopted at St. Louis, while strictly adhering to the gold standard, really places "bimetallism by international agreement" to the front as the ideal solution of the money question. The important phrases of the finance plank are worded as follows:

"We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are, therefore, opposed to the free coinage of silver except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote, and until such agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved."

That is to say, the Republican party espouses the single gold standard, not because it is the final and most desirable means of settling the question, but because it cannot yet secure "international agreement," which it therefore pledges itself to promote. The inference is that the party would prefer international bimetallism, but, finding that inexpedient, advocates the single gold standard as the next best plan, and the only remaining plan which is safe.

In view of the slow but genuine growth of the movement for international bimetallism among the thinking men of Europe this contribution to the subject is of interest and importance If the Republican party is to abide by its platform it should be the first in seconding the efforts of European bimetallists and in meeting in a favorable spirit whatever overtures for an international money conference may be made in the near future.—(Chicago Record.

The Cycle as an Instrument of Torture.

A German traveler writes from Fez that the late Sultan of Morocco, Muley Hassan who had received the present of a velocipede from some French trader, made use of it as a means for punishing the inmates of his harem who might have incurred the displeasure of their despotic lord The unfortunate women were placed upon the bike and compelled to ride round an arena fenced off in the park of his palace Not accustomed to this sort of locomotion, although dressed in stylish bloomers, which they were careful enough to have well padded for the occasion, the slippered houris would, of course, tumble over as soon as started on their treacherous vehicle, and their ludicrous precipitations afforded the greatest amusement to their tormentor, who in high glee viewed the spectacle from a veranda. A dozen falls, we are assured, marked the limit of their acrobatic performances.—(Baltimore Sun.

A Missing Detective.

The Trinidad Advertiser publishes the following.

$100 REWARD.

My husband, William Green, having been absent since the 24th day of April, 1896 in the pursuit of criminals in the State of Colorado—and active inquiry and search having failed to ascertain whether he is dead or alive—I hereby offer the sum of $100 (one thousand dollars) for him living the said sum to be promptly paid upon his rescue and safe return to Trinidad, Colorado

And further, if it shall be shown that at this date he has been assassinated I will pay the sum of $500 (five hundred dollars) for the delivery of his body to me at Las Vegas, N. M.

I would gladly increase this inducement for the recovery of my husband, but my limited means will not permit, and I appeal to the public to co-operate with me in my efforts. Having served the public by his courage in the arrest of outlaws the public should save him if alive, and if in further attempts he have lost his life the public should return his body to me at Las Vegas, N. STEVENS'S NEW ALTA VISTA.

The Handsome Hotel Is Now Ready For Occupancy.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE PERFECT.

Twenty-five Additional Sleeping Rooms—External Appearance Is Very Imposing — The Improvements Cost $25,000

Mr and Mrs H H Stevens are getting the furniture into their new Alta Vista hotel this week and on Saturday will have everything running ship shape. Colorado Springs has reason to be proud of its beautiful hotels and there are few cities of the same size that can equal them. The hotels are not only increasing in number but in size and importance. This is specially true of the hotels that cater to those who can pay high prices and every year they are compelled to make additions and improvements of a metropolitan character.

The Alta Vista was built by Mr and Mrs Stevens in 189[illegible] and was originally designed for a family hotel. It was popular from the first, and while today it still maintains more or less of that same character, yet the owners have found it expedient to reach out into a larger field. Three months ago Mr Stevens let the contract for an extension adding to the house at a cost of $25,000. The work has been pushed rapidly by the contractors and the new portion is now ready for occupancy in time for the big summer business. It is certainly an important addition to the first-class hotel accommodations of the city.

The external appearance of the house is entirely changed and no longer has the look of a big private residence. The new building is of pressed brick and fills the entire front of the 1[illegible] foot lot. It has a depth of 40 feet and stands four stories high. It is constructed of red pressed brick with stone trimmings. It faces Cascade, the famous Colorado Springs avenue of beautiful homes.

The main entrance is in the middle of the building through a stone porch of ample proportions. One first enters the office, a large and beautiful room finished in oak. The floor is tiled in colors of buff and white. The desks are all in the north end of the room. Leading off from this to the south are the reading and writing rooms. They connect by large oak folding doors and when thrown together make a room [illegible] feet. They have white ash floors and will make an excellent ball room when needed. This part of the house has been designed for the use of both ladies and gentlemen and in fact all first class hotel [illegible] are now so arranged. A Smith Hill electric elevator is being put in and the cage will be of bronze and quite ornamental. A handsome stair case winds around the elevator.

The addition gives the hotel 25 more rooms. All three upper floors are constructed alike. The rooms are en suite and each has a bath. The rooms are large and splendidly lighted, plate glass being used. There is not a room but that has a magnificent view of the mountains and plains or of the avenue. The sunshine pours into them nearly every hour in the day. The furnishing is being done in a manner suitable to the handsome building. The carpets are soft in texture and rich in colors, while the furniture is of the latest designs and of beautiful woods.

The basement of the new part of the house has its own use and will be as attractive as any other portion. In the south end is a small room which will house that very necessary adjunct to a first class hotel, the barber shop. The stair from the outside reaches this and at the foot of this is an alcove the use of which is another very modern addition to a first-class hotel. It is intended for the safe-keeping of bicycles. Next to the barber shop is the billiard room. This is large enough for four tables and is well lighted. Next the billiard hall is the vestibule for the stairway leading down from the office and just off of this is the lavatory. There is a baggage room, elevator shaft etc in the north end.

The parlors of the hotel have always been ample and most attractive so that they were not disturbed. They are just back of the office. The dining room has undergone a complete change. An addition was put in on the west, with the result of almost doubling the seating capacity and better lighting the room. Large arches connect the rooms leaving one big broken room. The effect is very pretty and the semi-privacy of the various sets of tables is an attraction. Handsome hard-wood floors have been laid. The halls have been recarpeted and the lower part of the house put in order to correspond with the rest of the building. Altogether the arrangements of the new Alta Vista are perfect and reflect credit on the architect, Mr Gray. It is the intention of Mr and Mrs Stevens to take occasion to throw the place open for the inspection of the public as soon as they can arrange for it.

Coliseum Attractions.

Last evening the Jessie Memminger dramatic company presented "The Child of the Regiment" at the Coliseum, and was greeted by a large audience. In some respects the play did not go as well as on the first presentation here.

On Friday and Saturday evenings the company is to appear again at the Coliseum in "M'liss," the Western play in which Annie Pixley made her fame. A Saturday matinee is to be given when "The Child of the Regiment" will be repeated. Miss Memminger sings very well and in "M'liss" will introduce some new music. Mr Johnson, the young comedian who plays the Duke, will also have a part suited to his ability.

SILVER MEETING.

Resolutions Were Adopted and Delegates Named.

The meeting called at the Mining Stock Exchange building yesterday afternoon to select delegates to the silver convention in Denver to-day was not largely attended considering the number who signed the pledge. About fifty were present, and very few of those have ever shown brilliantly as leaders of the dominant party of the county.

Mr. A. P. Toombs was elected chairman of the meeting, and H D G Nancrede secretary. An hour or more was taken up in short talks on the silver question. A Mr. Stine, a young man who seems quite well posted on silver, made the first talk. Col B F Montgomery spoke more on the labor status of the situation. Joe Hutchinson made the speech of the afternoon and aroused considerable enthusiasm. He wants the Democrats to put in a silver plank and a silver candidate because of the Southern vote which it assures. He believes they would never do it unless the Populist and silver conventions in St Louis stand back with their club over them.

The chair then appointed a committee of five on resolutions and to name fifteen delegates to the convention. The committee after taking fifteen minutes to consider brought in the following list of delegates who would agree to go to Denver to-day: R. B Taylor, A. P Toombs, B. F Montgomery, L. T Cunningham, K McDonald, David McShane, John McCord, H Nancrede, H W. DeLong, Dr. W K Sinton, R T Guinn, J H Hutchinson, Q E. Hicks, Wm. Hall, W. A. Davis.

The following resolutions were presented and adopted, and the meeting then adjourned:

Resolved That we are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard, and in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver as the same existed prior to 1873, without the intervention of any foreign power or influence whatever.

Resolved That we are in favor of Americans, native and adopted, controlling the internal affairs of the American nation.

Resolved, That we unqualifiedly endorse the action taken by Colorado's noble son the Hon Henry M. Teller and his associates in walking out of the St Louis convention and shaking the dust of the G. O. P. from their feet and we recognize in him one worthy of the very highest honors in the gift of our republic.

Resolved That the delegates appointed by this meeting are hereby instructed to act as a unit on all questions coming before the State convention to which they are appointed for consultation.

District W. C. T. U. Meeting.

A district convention of the W. C. T. U. is to be held in Colorado City to-morrow. Mrs Telford the State president is expected to be present. The following is the programme for the day:

9:30—Devotional Exercises
10:00—Reports from Unions
11:00—Duties of Officers, by the officers.
12 to 2 p. m.—Basket Lunch on Mrs Everhart's lawn.
2:00 p. m.—Devotional Exercises, led by Mrs. Dr. Hays of Milwaukee.
2:15—Loyal Temperance Legion, conducted by Miss Hethering[illegible].
[illegible]—By Master Fred Sh[illegible].
3:00—Mothers' Meeting in charge of Mrs Weber. Address by Mrs. English.
3:30—Christian Citizenship Department in charge of Mrs Hollingsworth. Subject, Colorado Temperance Laws.

The State of Cuba.

Mr Palma's exposition of the Cuban case is frank and explicit. It collects exactly with the ideas which have for a long time been held by the most careful and judicious observers of affairs in that island. Proposals of reforms by Spain, in the case forms merely a digression parallel to the proverbial one of the borrowed and broken kettle. Spain does not intend to make any reforms at all. But if she has any reforms in mind they are not such as would be satisfactory to the Cubans. And anyway, no matter what reforms Spain might offer the Cubans would not accept them. Absolute independence and nothing less is what the patriots are fighting for. They will be content with nothing less. They will keep up the war until they have got it. Such is the Cuban programme, authoritatively set forth. It has the merits of sincerity and definiteness and it will be strange if it does not appeal strongly to the sympathies of those who are tentatively committed themselves to a struggle for liberty or death against a tyranny far less odious than that of Spain.

What the war means to Cuba and to Spain economically speaking is startling to consider. At the beginning of the present month the public debt of Cuba, every dollar of which is directly guaranteed by Spain, amounted to more than $325,000,000, with annual interest charges of more than $9,000,000. To this the expenses of the war are adding at least $[illegible],000,000 a month. To meet these charges, and finally to extinguish the debt, Spain relies upon the revenues of the island. These in 1893-94, a year of prosperity after fifteen years of peace, amounted to only $20,000,000 or a little less. In that same year the expenditure was more than $[illegible]. At present the expenditure is enormously increased. The military and naval establishment is costing $75,000,000 a year, and the civil establishment and present interest charges amount to fully $[illegible], making a total of $1[illegible]. At the same time the revenues have fallen off enormously. A very moderate estimate would put the loss at more than 50 per cent. The budget then, stands thus: Expenditure $100,000,000; revenue, $10,000,000; deficit $90,000,000. And that deficit must be supplied from the already well-nigh bankrupt Spanish treasury. It is an appalling outlook for the mother country.

If anything is worse than the financial prospect it is the military prospect. The special correspondent of The London Times sums the present situation up most convincingly. With an army of 1[illegible],000 men with ample supplies, with perfect weather and with everything in his favor General Weyler has been able to do no more than hold his ground. Every error which Gen. Campos made has been repeated in an exaggerated form. The excuse that the rebels will not stand and fight is no longer valid. For months General Maceo's whole army has been within striking distance and almost within sight of 60,000 Spanish troops but the latter have simply not dared to give battle. The Spaniards have been out generalled again and again by those whom they scornfully term half-breed bandits and they are constantly overmatched in valor by an army only a quarter the size of their own. That is the state of affairs in Cuba to-day.—(N. Y. Tribune.

A Verified Maxim.

The writer spent last summer on a little farm he rented for the season up in Vermont, and hired a native of the soil named Job K. to take care of a little garden and cut his hay. Job was a character in his way and about as unique a looking specimen as one often runs across. He was about 6 feet 5 in stature and weighed in the neighborhood of 100 pounds. He had the features and the complexion of an Indian, and I doubt if he could have told the name of a single president of the United States. His general information was appallingly vague and meager. One day he was asked:

"How many children have you, Job?"

"Nine at present."

"That's quite a family."

"Yaas, 'tis. My folks run to big families. I'm one of 18, an my dad an mam was both one of 16."

"How long have you been married?"

"Twelve years."

"And you have nine children?"

"Yaas, sir. I been married 12 years an hev had nine children an two suits o' clothes in that time."

"It's about time for you to get another suit, isn't it?"

"Yaas, 'tis, but then gee thar, Buck!" He brought his gad down on the back of one of the big black oxen with which he was getting in the hay, and the conversation was not resumed.

Two days later he said when he came to work:

"About that thar suit, I reckon I'll hev to put off gettin it another year. We've got twins to our house. Waal, as the old sayin is, them as hez, gits." Detroit Free Press.

A Startling Statement.

The English woman calls her garments by such different names from those used by her American sister for the same things that the latter is often rather bewildered.

They tell the story of an American girl who was making her first visit to an English country house which she had been told contained the orthodox haunted room that no well regulated country mansion should be without.

She had laid down to rest after her journey and fallen into a doze, from which, to her horror, she was awakened by a tap at the door and a mysterious whisper, "I want my body."

This seemed a most appropriate remark for a ghost. It proved, however, to be nothing more formidable than the family governess, who had been turned out of her room to make way for the guest and had left her waist behind her. New York Journal.

The animal measured 5 feet and 8 inches from the point of his nose to the root of his tail and stood 34 inches high. From the point of his nose to the top of his head was 12 inches, and his hide and head alone weighed twenty pounds. Three old dogs and two pups attacked the wolf and the fight lasted thirty minutes.

A curious illustration of the red-tape methods of the British postoffice department comes from Norfolk. A letter-carrier, with a long country round, recently purchased a tricycle, which enabled him to get over his district with greater ease to himself and a more convenient promptness to the public. In some way or other the department became aware of this fact and sent down an official censure to him for having dared to buy his machine without having received permission from headquarters.

Mines, Stocks, Investments

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, June 24.—Trading at the Exchange this morning was rather dull and inactive. There was hardly any life to any of the numerous stocks called up, and what business was transacted was almost entirely of a local nature. The number of shares to change hands shows a large decrease, although the lack of buying orders was not accompanied with noticeable tendency to lower prices. The silvers still continue strong on the receipt of bullish news regarding the silver market in the East. Several of the stocks were considerably stronger than on yesterday and opened with fractional gains. The heaviest traders in the mine list were Isabella, Pharmacist, Work and Stamped Isabella. Isabella opened at 64¾, a gain over the last sale on yesterday of ¼. Heavy selling in this stock by a former buying house seemed to influence the price not a little, and a gradual sagging set in which carried down the price to 63½ and 63¾ at the close, with total sales of 1500 shares. Stamped Isabella on the contrary opened at 63½ and made a gain during the call to 63¾, but closed at 62¾. Portland lost a full point during the night and opened at 1.74, but jumped to 1.75 for the second sale and closed at 1.76. Union was slightly stronger with an advance of ¼ from the previous day. Argentum was ½ higher; while Pharmacist, on good news from the mine, closed at 6½, a trifle better than yesterday's last bid. It then went by eighths to 6¾, where it closed with transfers of 500 shares. Work closed ¼ higher than yesterday at 12. In the prospect department, Magnet Rock showed much firmness, having sales of 11 000 shares at from 1¾ to 1¾. Jack Pot, Findley, Trachyte and Bob Lee remained unchanged, while Alamo was inclined to lower figures. In the unlisted shares Arcadia was in brisk demand, and sold as high as 8, with sales of 800 shares. Acacia, Blue Bell, and Rattler were stiff at good figures. The market closed fairly steady.

Pot Gulch.

Eastern men who are largely interested in mines in the vicinity of Victor, and particularly in Pot gulch, have had a mining engineer make a report on the Pot Gulch Gold Mining company's mines. The report is very flattering, so much so that the present force of four men will be increased to 15, and three shifts will begin working on Monday.

Surveys for patents are now being made and the advertising will begin as soon as the survey is completed. A new shaft house and a steam hoist will be put in as soon as possible. A great many permanent improvements are being put in on the south slope of Straub mountain.

Elkton.

At the headquarters of the Elkton Consolidated company yesterday afternoon a telephone message was received from the mine superintendent, stating that the Walter ore chute had been encountered in both the fifth and sixth levels in that mine much sooner than expected and that the ore was showing up well. These levels are known as the second and third Elkton levels and had only left the side line of the Katherine claim a distance of 65 feet when the ore body was broken into. It was estimated that the levels would have to be run at least 100 feet before reaching ore. The officers of the company believe that the striking of ore so soon indicates that the chute is becoming longer as more depth is being attained. The levels will be run some forty feet further before any stoping is attempted. For the current month the company expects to mine and sell about $25,000 worth of ore, which is earning at the rate of 2 1-3 cent dividend.

Alpha Strike.

Officers in this city of the Alpha Consolidated company, operating at Creede, have received information that an eight-inch streak of ore had been encountered in the Alpha mine that averages 350 ounces silver per ton. The Alpha is developed by tunnels, crosscuts and winzes, and heretofore has only produced silver ore of a medium grade. A tunnel has been driven along the vein a distance of over 700 feet, near the end of which a winze has been sunk. A few days ago the company believed that uprising at the end of the tunnel would be profitable. An eight-inch streak was found that only ran 15 ounces. After uprising on this streak some ten or twelve feet the values suddenly increased to 350 ounces, and up to the present time are holding their own.

The company has decided to extract no more ore below the tunnel level until the new working shaft, which is being rapidly sunk, cuts the big vein on its dip, but will confine its stoping to the virgin ground above the tunnel. If the rich streak that has been encountered holds out to the surface, the Alpha will become one of the biggest producers in the Creede district.

PORTLAND.

Two Cages Will Be Running by the End of This Week on the Burns Shaft.

More guides for the new Burns shaft of the Portland company arrived at Victor Tuesday. It is expected that the second cage will be started by Saturday, when a drift for the Portland ore bodies, which, as far as known lie to the east of the shaft. This drift will be started at a depth of 600 feet, and will be the second to be run from the new shaft, the first being started from a point 300 feet. As soon as veins or ore bodies are encountered by the drifts or crosscuts run from the Burns shaft, they will be developed in a thorough manner.

The Pharmacist.

The new double compartment shaft the Pharmacist company is sinking some distance from the old shaft has reached a depth of 60 feet, and appears to be in a large body of good ore. The parallel vein which has been opened up in the underground workings was cut by this new shaft at a depth of 40 feet, and at the present time it has widened out to fully ten feet, and showing up in good shape. Parts of the vein carry free gold in great abundance.

Moon-Anchor.

The Moon-Anchor company has started crosscutting from the fifth level at a depth of 460 feet for the vein which dips from the shaft. It is estimated that 60 feet of work will cut the ore body. As soon as this crosscut is far enough in the shaft will be continued down again. The company has eleven cars of ore in transit, and is earning a handsome sum for the reserve fund each month.

Gold Coin Returns.

The Gold Coin company has just received returns from three cars of low grade ore shipped to the cyanide works at Florence last week. The first car returned $21, the second $27, and the third $33 in gold per ton. The ore chute to the south of the shaft has shifted to the west will, and carries a two-inch streak that will run above $400 per ton. Thirty-five men are employed on the property.

MINING AT ASPEN.

The Smuggler Agrees to Keep the Free Silver Clear of Water.

The long-talked of agreement, which is to clear the Free Silver shaft at Aspen from water and keep it clear, has been consummated and the work of freeing the mine will be commenced within a few days. The work will be undertaken by the Smuggler company, under the direct supervision of S. I. Hallett, the Smuggler's general manager, who is considered one of the best mining men in the district. When, a few weeks ago, the Free Silver managers gave up the battle with the water, after having a number of pumps drowned out, and allowed the mine to fill, the Smuggler people stepped in and as a result of a new conference a contract to do the work was let.

The shaft in the Silver is now down 1080 feet. In addition to clearing it from water the Smuggler company is to drive the shaft 130 feet further, and when this is accomplished the shaft is to be used jointly by the two companies. No time limit is specified in the contract and pending the work Mr. Hallett is to have absolute control of the property. As soon as the water is cleared to the eleventh level he will place a large duplex pump at that station and begin operations. He will also put an eight-inch steam pipe through the shaft, which will be fed by two large boilers. When he gets matters arranged according to his plans he expects little trouble in handling the flow of water.

The Smuggler company is still pegging away on what has ceased to be an experiment in handling low grade ore. The concern owns its own concentrator and is handling at the rate of 120 tons of low grade a day. It is learned from a gentleman who recently visited the property that there is ore enough blocked out in the mine to run the concentrator six years and pay a good margin above expenses.

Manager Hallett returned a few days ago from a trip to the Spencer district over the line in Gunnison county, where he went in company with D. M. Hyman, the millionaire mine-owner of Denver, to look at some properties.

The Old Lot mine, located three miles from Spencer, interested them greatly. Of the section Mr. Hallett says the formation is schistose granite or schist with an overlying country rock of granite or porphyry. The veins seem to occur in a mineralized zone. In the Old Lot mine there are two streaks of ore 40 or 50 feet apart. One is purely free milling rock and the other partially so, carrying a percentage of base ore in the form of galena and sulphides of iron and copper, making it a concentrating proposition as well as amalgamating. The ores are entirely dependant upon gold values, although they carry a small percentage of silver throughout the district.

It is the intention of the owners of the Old Lot to develop the property on an extensive scale this summer, and to that end a stamp mill will be built on Lebolin creek, which is distant two and one-half miles from the mine.

Nothing definite can be learned regarding the gold strike reported at Ashcroft, a few days ago. Whether there is gold-bearing rock in large quantities in the section is uncertain. Certain it is however, that Captain Green and those operating other properties in that section have shown samples that carry from $7 to $15 in gold. None of the men however will state how much of a vein they have and since the story got out they are reticent regarding the matter. There is considerable eagerness on the part of some to secure properties in the section, and a few days ago interests were purchased in the Lone Hand, Silver Glance and the Ancon and Orizaba mines, while the Monument Pass, Cornucopia and Way Up claims were sold entire. P. P. Remer was the purchaser, but who he is acting for, or the price paid, is not known. These mines are in a comparatively virgin state.

The strike on the Republic which lies on Raven hill, just above the town of Anaconda is proving bigger than was at first reported. The ore chute is from 15 to 18 inches in thickness and is widening with depth. It is also growing richer, as a sample across the vein gave returns of $400 per ton. A picked sample assayed 127 ounces. The lease on this property, which is known as the Murray lease, was recently sold to Mr. A. G. Fitzgerald, who had little trouble in locating the ore chute and he is now hoisting ore, every piece of which shows sylvanite. The new machinery is now in working order and the shipments will be several carloads per month. Returns from a carload sent to a Denver smelter have been received and showed an average, first grade, of eight ounces in gold, and two ounces for the second grade. The ore bins are again being rapidly filled and another carload will be ready to send out in a few days. The work at present is confined to sinking the shaft, which will be continued down to 200 feet. The lease has until next March to run. On the north end of the Republic, lessees have opened the same vein to a depth of 75 feet. They are now putting on machinery and will soon be in shape to sink on the vein and hoist ore.

A vein, supposed to be the Pinto lead, was opened Monday on the Granville & Brown lease on the Orphan Bell. It is in phonolite quartz, but at this writing is hardly opened enough to show its dimensions. The claim is just below the Munger lease on the same property and probably upon the same vein. The strike was made at 50 feet.

Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

Colorado Springs, June 24.—The market was not in a satisfactory condition this morning at the Board. Business was light, with no features outside of Pharmacist and Arcadia that are particularly worthy of mention. The gains and losses sustained were about equally divided up among the general list, and at best were only fractional. In the mine department Portland opened with a sale of 200 at 1.73, but immediately went to 1.75 for the second and last sale of 200 shares. Stamped Isabella had sales of 2500, the first lot going at 63¾—an advance of ¼, and the second 1000 shares going at 63, at which figure it closed. Isabella had sales of 1500 shares opening ¼ higher than yesterday at 64¼, but dropped to 64 for the final transfer. Pharmacist showed considerable strength and activity, and was in good demand. The initial transaction was made at 6¾—a gain over night of ⅛. The stock sold up to 6¾ and closed at 6¾, with total sales of 6500 shares. In the prospective mine list Arcadia was very strong and higher, selling at one time to 8¼, but dropped back to 8 at the close. Squaw Mountain Tunnel was stronger at the close at 2½. Acacia showed more firmness, as did also Flower of the West. In the prospects and miscellaneous stocks T. P. T. was a good seller at 2¾. The market closed easy.

Current Notes.

R. M. Maloney is putting in a new 25-horse power double hoist and boiler on his lease on the Orphan Bell, on Bull hill. The new double compartment shaft where the machinery is being installed is down over 40 feet.

A new shaft has been started above the Lillie tunnel on the Lawrence townsite by Judge Calderwood, who is managing the property. So far tunnel values have run over $10 but are not valuable enough for shipping purpose.

The new shaft which F. S. Ingoldsby is sinking on the Nightingale has attained a depth of 55 feet and some good looking quartz has shown up in the bottom. This shaft is being sunk east of the Rattler end line with the hope of catching the Rattler vein.

The St. Louis Mining and Leasing company which has the Claude and Block No 2 of the Half Moon on Gold hill, under lease will explore the Half Moon territory within the limits of the lease by cross-cutting at the 250-foot level from the Claude shaft. The ground is favorably located and regarded as good ground to prospect.

The Sweet group, south of town, is the scene of active developments, the work having recently been taken up by Moses Bros of Pueblo. A new shaft has been started on the south end of the properties and on the north end a shaft has reached the depth of 100 feet. The property has always been considered a valuable group, but for various reasons work has been carried on spasmodically.

The Sumpter Mining company, which is working the Sumpter lode on Tenderfoot hill, has a very flattering showing at a depth of 40 feet. The vein is well defined, between perfect walls, and a streak of the quartz several inches wide assays $21 per ton. The property is one of the oldest locations in camp, but has been tied for a period of years by litigation. It is proposed now to increase the working force and thoroughly develop the property.

The returns from the Modoc shipment were a disappointment in some respects after the high hopes that had been entertained of fabulous values. One-half of the ore was high grade and rest was screenings, 21,000 pounds in all, which gave an average return of $5.20 per ton. As it will be possible to take out five tons per day from now on, $5 is not so bad after all and the lessees need not suffer for the necessaries of life after the lease expires, if they make proper use of the time which remains.

There are a number of prospectors at present camped within a mile of the summit of Pike's Peak, and they are said to be finding many good indications of gold.

In Iron gu 2b, on Straub mountain, the Jennie B. is producing some fine specimens of tellurium ore in phonolite rock which came from a depth of 65 feet and assays $32. William Brown who owns the Jennie, and 17 other claims in this gulch, promises some new and startling developments from his property.

Messrs Parks & Sayre surveyors, are much elated over discoveries they are making at the Half Way house, near the Riggs ranch. They have opened a quartz ledge to a depth of 10 feet and nine assays gave average returns of $5.75 per ton. A big quartz boulder was broken up and an assay on a streak of white quartz it contained ran $55 in gold per ton. Mr Parks says the country is rapidly filling up with prospectors and expects to see a shipping mine or two before long.

The prediction of Matt Heffron, manager of the Chicolo property near Wilson creek on Straub mountain, that when he reached water in his shaft the sulphide matter would change to sylvanite, has been verified with startling accuracy. At 35 feet the shaft, which is being put down in a big vein of low grade ore, came into water and almost simultaneously the sylvanite began to appear. The shaft is now down 40 feet and the first assays from the new rock were left with Mr. Vincent last night for assaying. The rock is all being saved, and if the tests show it to be as good as it looks the Chicolo company has a bonanza, for the ore body from which the samples are taken is practically unlimited in quantity, being over 15 feet in width.

Perault and Thompson, owners of the Climax, resumed work about 10 days ago on their property, located on the southwest slope of Squaw mountain, below the M. K. and T. They began sinking the shaft, which with the additional work that has been accomplished in a few days, is now about 90 feet deep. The improvement in the paystreak has been very decided and last night Mr. Perault said there was six or eight inches of the richest part of the vein that would run about 15 ounces. The other two or three feet of the vein is low grade, averaging about $15 per ton. The screenings from this part of the vein run up, however, to a good grade of milling ore. The Climax Nos. 1 and 2 are among the old locations in the camp and take in the ground for 3000 feet along the vein. The claims have been worked by lessees for two or three years past and as much as 1500 feet of work in drifts and tunnels has been accomplished.

Mrs. R. DeYoung, Middleburg, Iowa, writes: I have used One Minute Cough Cure for six years, both for myself and children, and I consider it the quickest acting and most satisfactory cough cure I have ever used. Colorado Springs Drug Co.

If it required an annual outlay of $100 to insure a family against any serious consequences from an attack of bowel complaint during the year there are many who would feel it their duty to pay it; that they could not afford to risk their lives, and those of their family for such an amount. Any one can get this insurance for 25 cents, that being the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of bowel complaint before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. One or two doses of this remedy will cure any ordinary case. It never fails. Can you afford to take the risk for so small an amount?

MANITOU DEPARTMENT.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Runaway Horse Collides With a Bicyclist.

HORSE WAS INSTANTLY KILLED.

The Bicycle Rider Sustains Severe Internal Injuries—His Chances for Recovery Are Small—Cliff Hop To-night—Other News.

About 11 o'clock Tuesday night there occurred a serious collision between a carriage and a bicycle which resulted in the killing of the horse and severely injuring the bicycle rider. It seems that a horse attached to a light wagon belonging to Frank Norton of Colorado Springs started to run away on Manitou avenue and was going at a terrible rate towards Colorado Springs. When near H. J. r's saloon he came in contact with a Pueblo wheelman who was riding to Manitou, and the horse was instantly killed. The man was picked up in an unconscious condition and sent to the hospital at Colorado Springs. The doctors are of the opinion that the young man received internal injuries to such an extent that his chances for recovery are very small.

Miss Anna Green of Buffalo, N. Y., is spending a few weeks at the Sunny Side.

A club will soon be organized in Manitou to be known as the "Mountain Climbing club."

A large party of guests from the Cliff walked up to the half-way house yesterday morning.

George D. Edwards, one of Denver's prominent citizens, is spending a few weeks at the Barker.

Mr. J. M. Kaufman and wife of Champagne, Ill., are in Manitou and will spend a week at the Cliff.

H. D. Patterson, wife and two daughters of Chicago have arrived at the Cliff and will spend the summer.

H. J. Lee and wife of Fremont, Neb., have arrived in the city and will remain during the summer months.

The guests of the Iron Springs indulged in a card party Tuesday evening. Five tables were required to fill the demand.

The orchestra engaged at the Iron Springs is becoming very popular and is drawing large crowds to the springs every day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hooker and children of Los Angeles are registered at the Barker and will remain in the city for a few weeks.

Miss Ida Weber, a prominent society young lady of Buffalo, N. Y., has arrived at the Sunny Side and will remain in the city a few weeks.

Mr. L. S. Denny and A. S. Fairbury, two Englishmen who are touring America, are in Manitou for a few weeks and are stopping at the Barker.

Charles T. Carney and wife of Meeker, Colo., are stopping at the Cliff. While here they will enjoy themselves by visiting Manitou's numerous pleasure resorts.

The Cliff house is in receipt of 150 dozen napkins, 100 dozen towels and 12 dozen table cloths, which have lately been imported from Germany. On every piece is handsomely worked the name of the hotel.

Messrs. J. Woodside and T. Clifford, prominent civil engineers of the India State railway, went up the Peak yesterday morning. They have instructions to thoroughly study the mode of operating the cog road.

For the last two or three days the trains to the Peak have had all they could do to handle the heavy passenger traffic which has been ascending the mountain daily. As yesterday's train pulled out there was not a vacant seat in the car.

A party of seven judges, their wives and children, have arrived from Arkansas and will spend the summer months at the Barker. The party consits of the following: Judge John A. Williams, wife and son, Judge W. E. Hemingway, wife and two sons, Judge John W. Elliott, wife and one son, Gen. S. Churchill, Judge Z. L. Wise, wife and children, and Judge M. A. Austin and daughter, Miss Bettie Austin.

A meeting of those interested in the matter of further promoting the free library was held Tuesday afternoon. The whole matter was very thoroughly talked over and a number of the ladies of the city came forward and donated a quantity of good books. A request will be sent to the press of the State asking them to put the library on their free list. There is little doubt but that this will be easily accomplished.

This evening occurs the second hop the Cliff has given this season, and it is expected that it will surpass the other in the way of a social event. The management of this favorite hotel wish it understood that the hops given there this season are strictly invitation affairs, and not open to the general public. A number of invitations have been sent out, for this evening's dance, to the various other hotels in Manitou, and also to some of the residents of Colorado Springs.

Mr. O. N. Wilson and wife of Kiltanney, Pa., have arrived in Manitou, and will spend a few weeks. Mr. Wilson while in the city will spend his time in looking into Cripple Creek properties.

The Ouray spring at the Iron Springs was closed to the public yesterday and will remain so for a few days. The cause of the closing of this new spring is to enable the managers, Messrs. Weir and Hiestand, to place a cement floor for a distance of some 20 feet around the spring. The work will be all completed by Saturday so that those who attend the opening of this new resort will be able to examine the spring.

Arrivals at the different hotels yesterday:

The Stock Market.

New York, June 24.—American Sugar was traded in to the extent of nearly 150,000 shares to-day, and the fluctuations in this specialty completely overshadowed operations in the railway and miscellaneous list. The stock opened slightly lower, but soon advanced to 112⅝ on purchases to cover short contracts, but a break to 113½ quickly followed. Stock held on slender margins was thrown overboard, and for a time the market so far as Sugar was concerned was demoralized. No new reasons were given for the break, and in fact none were needed. The street has settled down to the opinion that the turn on the long side of this specialty has been carried through successfully, and that, in the immediate future at least, the stock will lack the support of influential parties. The break led to buying for a turn, and a rally to 114⅛ followed. Tobacco and General Electric were weak for a time, the former on statements that the directors had decided to postpone action on the dividend. The reports that a number of important orders recently placed with the General Electric Co. had been cancelled received little credit. The railway list cut away from the industrials, and in the late trading was decidedly strong. In the last hour the traders who are still in control began to cover, and as a result the best prices of the day were reached in the cases of the grangers and internationals. The market closed strong in tone. Net changes show gains of ¼@1 per cent. Sugar lost 1 per cent. The total sales were 63,000 shares.

Bonds were quiet and higher. The sales footed up $785,000. Kansas & Texas 2ds rose 1 to 58¾, Kansas & Eastern 5s 1 to 23; St. Louis & San Francisco 2d 6s class C 1 to 116; St. Paul Terminal 5s 1 to 111, and Chicago & Missouri River 5s 1 to 110.

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, June 24.—Wheat continued inactive to-day. The trading showed a prominent absence of outside interest, the scalpers and local small fry keeping the market from falling into utter lifelessness. The feeling was irregular, but fluctuations were not important or broad and the changes represented the sentiment controlling the local crowd. The fact that new wheat is grading well occasions some comment at the present time, as it augurs favorably for the quality of the winter wheat crop. Liverpool cables were quiet and ½ d. lower. Receipts in the northwest were good at 371 cars against 250 last Wednesday and 195 a year ago. Chicago received 40 cars and inspected out 18,000 bushels. Paris closing cables were 10 centimes lower to 10 centimes higher for flour and unchanged for wheat. Antwerp was unchanged, and Berlin unchanged to ½ mark lower. Export clearances were light at 150,000 bushels. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 17 cars.

Corn was moderately active occasionally but at times was so dull as scarcely to constitute a market. From want of any direct influence, prices accepted the action of wheat as a guide, so that price changes were irregular and indefinite. Receipts were 457 cars and 172,535 bushels were taken from store. Liverpool cables were quiet and easy. Export clearances amounted to 255,000 bushels. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 400 cars.

GIRLS "MATCHED" FOR FARE.

Then Spent Some Time Arguing as to Who Was "Matching."

They boarded the car at Bellevue place, the red headed girl and she of the dimpled chin. Both began a mad hunt for their pockets and their purses. The mere man opposite watched them with a dawning smile. He expected the regulation "who shall pay the fare" argument. Man's joy in that scene never wears out. Thus easily are men amused. The conductor waited on the platform, nor came forward for his fare, knowing full well, wise man that he was, that the time for the collection thereof was not yet ripe. Still the mere man opposite watched, ready to be amused. Both girls produced their purses at once. The time for amusement had come, but not the time for collection.

"Match you for the fare," quoth she of the dimpled chin. Astonishment, approbation, not amusement, were the lot of the mere man.

"All right," returned my lady of the auburn locks. Each damsel extracted a coin from her purse, stood up, found her pocket, replaced the purse and proceeded to the business of the moment. The mere man was breathless. Even the conductor was interested. This was something new. In a minute two coins lay exposed on two daintily gloved palms.

"There! I've lost," quoth she of the auburn locks. "My turn to pay the freight."

"Not a bit of it!" replied the damsel with the dimpled chin. "I was matching you."

"Why, Marian, you know I was matching you."

And so on for several minutes. The mere man breathed once more. He had feared that he was presiding at the funeral of the car fare argument, that the last word had been said. But he knew now that so long as there be women folk in the world the last word will never be said. Meanwhile the maidens opposite decided to perform the ceremony once more, with a distinct understanding as to who was matching who. It was decided that she of the dimpled chin was to "pay the freight."

Both began once more hunting for purse and pocket, the one to restore the coin she had used in the rite, the other to exchange it for a dime. Both had used coppers.—Chicago Tribune.

Mr. James Perdue, an old soldier residing at Monroe, Mich., was severely afflicted with rheumatism but received prompt relief from pain by using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "At times my back would ache so badly that I could hardly raise up. If I had not gotten relief I would not be here to write these few lines. Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done me a great deal of good and I feel very thankful for it."

Mothers will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy especially valuable for croup and whooping cough. It will give prompt relief and is safe and pleasant. We have sold it for several years and it has never failed to give the most perfect satisfaction. G. W. Richards, Duquesne, Pa.

A. L. Wooster, a prominent citizen of Osseo, Mich., after suffering excruciatingly from piles for twenty years, was cured in a short time by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, an absolute cure for all skin diseases. More of this preparation is used than all others combined. Colorado Springs Drug Co.

OSTEOPATHY! OSTEOPATHY!

America's New Science.

The Greatest Discovery In the Healing Art Made During This Century,

Osteopathy Is Based Upon Common Sense and a Perfectly Rational Philosophy.

The human organism in its normal condition is a perfect piece of mechanism, in every part so nicely adjusted that the machine runs without jar or hitch. This Condition is Health.

When any of the bony framework, muscles, tendons, ligaments, blood vessels and nerves become displaced ever so little undue pressure is made upon some part or parts and the circulation of the blood or nerve-force is obstructed, producing local congestion and pain., the Beginning of Disease.

If the obstruction of the blood or nerve-force continues long enough, the disease becomes chronic and the health is slowly but surely undermined.

Osteopathy seeks to remove all these obstructions to the circulation of the blood and other fluids of the body by adjusting all dislocations or displacements of whatever kind, restoring the bodily mechanism to a normal, perfect condition, as originally designed by an All-Wise Creator.

To do this Osteopathy does not employ massage, magnetism, faith cure, drugs or any other empirical means, but makes use of a thorough knowledge of anatomy, and physiology, restoring every part to its proper position by means of skilful manipulations.

Osteopathy has Long Since Passed the Stage of Experiment.

Thousands testify to its superior efficiency in the treatment of all manner of diseases to which human flesh is heir.

People in every State in the Union bless Osteopathy for deliverance from the bondage of disease.

The diseases most successfully treated are Asthma, Consumption, Granulated Eyelids, Sore Eyes, Enlarged Tonsils, Loss of Voice, Hemorrhages, Heart Disease, Varicose Veins, Milk Leg, Female Diseases, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Spinal Curvature, Paralysis, Dislocations of all kinds, Hip Joint Disease, Wasted or Stiffened Limbs, Piles and all Rectal Diseases; in fact, all diseases by an obstruction either to the circulation of the Blood or Nerve-Force.

The first ball game between members of the City League occurs to-morrow afternoon at the Athletic park. The two teams to cross bats are the Holbrook & Perkins and the B. G. Robbins team known as the Americans. A small admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged.

The W. C. T. U. meeting this week will be devoted to the interest of the fair for the Home for Young Women. Ladies desiring to help on this work are requested to bring thimble, needle and thread. A review of the city ordinances will be given by the president. The meeting is at the First M. E. church at 3 o'clock today.

Yesterday morning, while the workmen were tearing out the walls of the old building in the rear of the Rouse block, they over-weighted the middle of the floor and the result was that a portion of it gave way. Two workmen were carried into the cellar and both were badly bruised. A Mr. Wallbaugh was injured in the legs, and had to lay off for a day or two.

The first stage rehearsal of the opera "Powhatan" was given at the Opera House last evening, and it passed off nicely. The very best local talent will participate, and the production promises to surpass anything of the kind of a local nature ever given here. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Boys' club. Most of the singers are experienced in this work, and the production will be far from amateurish.

Last Saturday as S. S. Hills, a prominent citizen of Table Rock, in this county, was returning from Monument, and when near the house of Robert Holloway, his horses were struck by lightning and instantly killed. The electric current passed from their bodies under the wagon and killed a small dog. Mr. Hills was the only occupant of the wagon, and was not injured or even shocked. There was no rain falling at the time.

A suit for $25,000 damages was filed in the District Court yesterday by Carrie A. Kerl against the Midland road. The suit was brought against Receiver Ristine as representative of the road. The plaintiff states that as she was stepping from a car on the Midland road at Ute Park, on June 21, that the train was suddenly started. As a result she was thrown down and had her shoulder dislocated. She received permanent injuries, and believes she was damaged to the amount of $25,000.

Bicycle thieving has become almost epidemic in this city and Denver of late, and as a result there is a rush of wheelmen who want their wheels registered. The United Bicycle Protective association, which has its headquarters in Denver, has decided to put an agent here who can devote his entire time to their work. Mr. P. A. Wieting has taken the agency and established an office at 103 Kiowa street. This is the company which Wahl Bro. have represented here for the past year. Insurance on a wheel costs but little and is the best kind of protection.

The members of the Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association yesterday remembered Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hutchinson with a very handsome wedding present in the form of a case of Gotham silver, consisting of knives, forks, spoons, etc., of a very pretty design. Mr. Hutchinson was recently married at Boise City to Miss Helen Hays. "Joe" was very much surprised at receiving so costly a gift, and expressed his warmest thanks to the different brokers.

As the First Presbyterian church have undertaken to raise immediately the balance of their floating debt, the proceeds of the sale of sweet pea flowers will be devoted hereafter to the Pearsons fund of the College. Orders left at Holbrook & Perkins's and Miss Thomas's will be carefully attended to, and the quality of the flowers is first class although the supply is not unlimited. They may be had in separate colors—white, lavender, blush, cardinal, blue etc.; also the novelties of 1896.

The road race of the Pike's Peak Roadsters to Fountain occurs this afternoon. The start will be made promptly at 5:15, and it will be an interesting sight. The storm of last evening has probably not hurt the road any, and some excellent time is anticipated. There is a great deal of interest in the race among the riders.

Moon-Dill.

In Denver last evening Mr. Harry Moon of this city and Miss Elizabeth Dill of Denver were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Moon left immediately after the ceremony for a trip to Salt Lake City, where they will spend a couple of weeks. The groom is one of the long-time employes of the Gazette Printing company, and is well and favorably known to many of the citizens. His bride is a charming and most estimable young lady of the capital city. They will make their home here, and will be welcomed back by many friends. The Gazette and its employes join in hearty congratulations.

Talented musicians, a gifted elocutionist, and delicious cream and berries will add to the pleasures of the social at the Christian church this evening.
